Member Seeks Foreign Policy On Pacific Area

Green Says Canada Must Take Full Part If Pact Formulated

OTTAWA, Feb. 1 (CP).—A call for a Canadian foreign policy on the Pacific was sounded in the Commons tonight by Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver South).

Warning that the Pacific may be "more dangerous" for Canada than the Atlantic in the years ahead, he urged in the Throne Speech debate that the Government make known its policy for an area which was vital to the people of the West Coast.

The Government had been "busy" these days working on an Atlantic pact, said Mr. Green, and he added: "Sometimes I think they are too busy looking down to Washington to see what they want done there."

PACIFIC PACT

Press dispatches recently indicated a Pacific pact might be formulated among the United States, the Commonwealth countries bordering on that great ocean and other powers in that general sphere. If that was so there was an element of urgency in the situation.

Canada had the closest ties with Australia. Sea and air lines linked the two. Yet, trade between the two dominions was falling off and they were "just drifting apart."

If there was to be a Pacific pact, Canada should become a full partner because she could not turn her back on the Pacific. Her membership in the Far Eastern commission already gave her a heavy stake in that sphere.

At the same time, Mr. Green criticized the Government for failure to establish a Commons' committee on veterans' affairs for this session of Parliament. This meant there would be no legislation for the men who saved Canada in two wars. It was a "tragedy."

There were many things which needed the airing of committee discussions, including the status of the wartime merchant seamen who were Canada's "forgotten men" and who had received "a dirty, shabby deal."

The Vancouver member called for clarification of the Government's policy on steel and Government assistance in the establishment of a steel industry on the West Coast.

Urges 50 Per Cent Cut In Personal Income Tax

OTTAWA, Feb. 1 (CP).—A 50 per cent reduction in personal income taxes was urged today in the Commons by Roland Beaudry, Liberal member for Montreal St. James.

Mr. Beaudry, one of several members to participate in a slow-moving debate on the Throne Speech, said the Government could afford to cut the income tax rates approximately in half. He presented a plan to show how it could be done.

The plan, aimed at removing some 724,000 taxpayers from the income tax rolls, would involve a change in the exemptions, now fixed at $750 for single persons and at $1,500 for married persons.

He urged than an earned income exemption be added to the basic exemption granted each taxpayer according to his marital status. He suggested that the new exemption be equal to 20 per cent of the taxpayer's earned income.

The exemption would apply on incomes of up to $7,500 for single persons and of up to $10,000 for married persons. The maximum exemption for single persons would be $1,500 and for married persons $2,000.

In addition, he urged elimination of the dependent exemption now fixed at $100 or $300, depending on whether or not the dependent is receiving family allowances.

He suggested that the exemption be replaced by a dependents' allowance set at 10 per cent of the taxpayer's income for the first three dependents and at 5 per cent for additional dependents.

At the House opening, Opposition leader George Drew unsuccessfully attempted to have the Commons adjourn the Throne Speech debate to discuss a statement that war with Russia may come within three months.

Speaker Gaspard Fauteux said the statement, attributed to Walter Harris, Parliamentary assistant to Prime Minister St. Laurent, could be discussed during the Throne Speech debate.

Later, Mr Harris read a statement in which he said he wished to make it clear he had not suggested that war might come.

Pilot Dragged To Death By Parachute

SHIP HARBOR, N.S., Feb. 1 (CP).—A navy fighter pilot was dragged to his death near this coastal village today when his parachute caught on the tailplane of his Seafury aircraft as he tried to jump clear of the doomed plane.

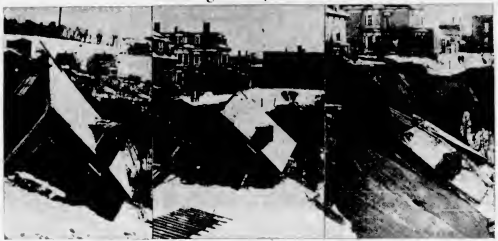
The body of Lieut. Thomas Coultry of Dartmouth, N.S., was found about ten feet from the burned wreckage of his plane.

The plane, which apparently caught fire in the air, crashed in a heavily wooded section near this village 25 northeast of Halifax.

No Objection To Committee

OTTAWA, Feb. 1 (CP).—Trade Minister Howe, the minister in charge of atomic energy, told the Commons tonight the Government has no objection to establishing a joint Senate-Commons committee on atomic power.

Going, Going, Gone!



CP Photo

In the past week Lancaster Avenue residents at Saint John, N.B., have watched their homes move nearer the brink of destruction while the ground in the surrounding area sinks. Edge of the earth-walled cliff (centre) has inched to within a few feet of several homes. The chasm has already swallowed a barn which has skidded progressively further into the hole. Trucks are dumping tons of earth into the cavity in an effort to fill Nature's gap. Some say the depression was caused by erosion by an underground stream. Within the week the section has widened to 500 yards and dropped 50 to 70 feet.

Crescent Sailing For East

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Crescent will sail from Esquimalt naval base at 11 this morning for the Far East, according to Pacific Naval Headquarters.

The destroyer was detached from a three-month training cruise which started last Friday for three other Esquimalt-based warships. Withdrawal of the Crescent from the cruise resulted from a surprise last-minute announcement from Defence Minister Claxton in Ottawa.

Naval officials say the warship is being dispatched to the Far East to be available "to assist in the evacuation of Canadian citizens there if an emergency arises as a result of present disturbed conditions."

DESTINATION UNKNOWN

No mention has been made of the ship's destination. Reports from the local naval base yesterday indicated the destroyer was taking on large supplies of ammunition—including torpedoes — foodstuffs, blankets and medical supplies.

The Crescent is under the command of Lieut.-Cmdr. David W Groos, of Victoria.

Relatives and friends of officers and men serving in the Crescent have been invited to enter the naval base and watch the warship sail.

Budapest Bars Western Press

LONDON, Feb. 1 (AP).—The Western press will encounter difficulties in trying to report the trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, unless the Hungarian Government has a sudden change of heart.

It developed today that a dozen or more correspondents who applied for permission to enter Hungary are still cooling their heels outside the borders of the Communist-dominated country.

The Cardinal's trial is scheduled to start Thursday in Budapest. He is charged with treason and espionage. Western newspapers and news agencies have been hoping to give the trial extended coverage.

A visa, approved by the Hungarian Government, is required for a Western correspondent to go to Budapest. So far, visas appear to have been granted in only one or two cases.

A press attache here for the Hungarian Government said authorities in Budapest had decided to admit no correspondents except those regularly accredited or permanent correspondents in Hungary. He blamed "lack of facilities" in Budapest and the "great rush of visa applications."

No American agencies or newspapers maintain Americans as full-time correspondents in Hungary.

Most American newspapers depend upon news agencies for their news of Hungary, and the agencies say these Hungarian Nationals try to be reliable and honest, but they remain under the eye of the Hungarian Government with the threat of imprisonment hanging over them if they offend the Communist regime.

Court Orders New Trial In Pickles Damage Suit

Supreme Court of Canada yesterday ordered a new trial in the $10,000 damage suit brought against officers of the Victoria Branch of the S.P.C.A. by Sydney Pickles, Saanich sheep farmer.

The suit was for malicious prosecution that began March 13, 1947, when an S.P.C.A. case against Pickles was dismissed in police court.

Mr. Pickles was charged after a society inspector, Robert Weeks, visited his farm, found several sheep dead and shot another.

A post-mortem by a veterinary surgeon, Dr. G. H. Keown, showed the dead animal suffered from an intestinal parasite, which was hard to detect, and which was usually found in the majority of a flock.

After the police court dismissal, Mr. Pickles gave notice he would sue the society and its officers for malicious prosecution. He filed his writ on March 31, asking $10,000 damages.

Later, the local S.P.C.A. executive filed suit for unstated damages against Mr Pickles for statements he was alleged to have made at the annual meeting of the provincial executive in Vancouver on March 12, 1947.

Mr. Pickles had been elected to the S.P.C.A executive at that meeting.

The S.P.C.A. writ alleged Mr. Pickles had made statements that meant each of the plaintiffs had carried out his or her duty "in a manner which has produced highly unsatisfactory conditions in connection with the operation of the Victoria branch."

Mr. Pickle's suit was dismissed after a six-day hearing in the Supreme Court of British Columbia, and notice of appeal was given.

The Court of Appeal upheld the judgment of the British Columbia Supreme Court and Mr. Pickles then took his case to the Supreme Court of Canada where the decision for a retrial was handed down yesterday.

SUIT PENDING

The S.P.C.A. suit against Mr. Pickles is still pending.

The Supreme Court of Canada, in ordering the new trial, allowed Mr. Pickle's appeal with costs. But they ruled that there would be no costs to either party awarded in the Court of Appeal action, and said the costs of the first trial would be in the discretion of the presiding judge in the new trial.

Special Planes Speed to Save Eskimo Village

EDMONTON, Feb. 1 (CP).—Two specially-equipped planes tonight are bound on a mercy mission to a tiny Eskimo village in the Canadian Arctic where half the 17 persons are reported to have died from a mysterious disease.

Loaded with medical supplies, the Dakotas took off from Edmonton today and headed for Cresswell Bay on Somerset Island, 400 miles inside the Arctic Circle. They landed at Fort Nelson, B.C., 550 airmiles northwest of Edmonton, then continued on their 2,000-mile air mission.

Carrs Queried In Secret By Grand Jury

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (CP).—A Federal grand jury investigating alleged subversive activities in the United States today questioned Sam Carr and his wife, Julia, behind closed doors.

Carr, long sought as a key figure in the Canadian postwar spy inquiry, and Mrs. Carr then were returned to Ellis Island where they are held pending disposition of deportation orders against them.

Thomas J. Donegan, special United States attorney, said the Carrs would not be called before the grand jury again.

Alexander Stevens, alias J. Peters, testified today before the Carrs were summoned. Peters has been identified before the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee as head of the Communist underground in the United States.

Donegan said he had no reason to believe the Carrs knew Stevens.

CARRS CHEERFUL

Carr was smiling and affable as he left the hearing. Mrs. Carr also appeared cheerful. But neither would answer reporters' questions.

The only information on the course of the questioning came through Mrs. Carol King, counsel for the Carrs.

She told reporters she understood that Carr, former organizer for the Labor-Progressive Party in Canada, said he knew nothing about the taking of any secret documents from United States Government files.

She added it was her recollection that Carr did not know Whittaker Chambers or Alger Hess, two of the principal figures in the current United States inquiry into Communist activities.

BULLETINS

Answers Call

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 2 (Wednesday) (AP). — The United States Coast Guard said today a motor lifeboat had reached the scene of distress signals ten miles off Anclote Key, Fla.

The Coast Guard said it was impossible to determine what type of vessel had been sending out SOS signals for more than five hours last night in the Gulf of Mexico.

Identify Plane

EDMONTON, Feb. 1 (CP). — An R.C.A.F. spokesman tonight confirmed that a burned plane found near Yellowknife, N.W.T., was one missing since January 22.

A message from Fort Smith, N.W.T., said the Fox Moth was "completely burned." Pilot Grant Ford, Henry Denis, an official of Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., and Thomas Lee of Yellowknife perished in the wreckage.

Saanich Council Objects to City Retaining Land

Request to Keep Airpark Site Criticized — Possible Clash Looms

Possibility of a clash loomed last night between Victoria and Saanich councils over the explosive Gordon Head airpark property issue.

Fast on the heels of city action on Monday, Saanich Council passed by a 5-3 vote a motion asking Hon. R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, and Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, M.P. for Nanaimo, to use their influence to have the Dominion Government "take back the property in accordance with the agreement with the City of Victoria."

The City Council Monday agreed to ask the Government to change the present deeds, which require that the 87¼ acres must be developed exclusively as an airpark, so that the property could be used for something else and still be retained by the city.

Ward Three Councillor George Austin, in whose ward the property is situated, termed the city's action "the thin edge of the wedge."

His first motion, later amended, voiced strong objection to the City Council's "maneuvring."

Councillor Leslie H. Passmore suggested that it would be impudence on the part of the Saanich Council to pass a motion containing the word "maneuvring."

"If you would call it impudence on our part, it certainly is impudence by the City of Victoria in the first part," replied Reeve E. C. Warren.

The reeve contended that before the city bought the property Saanich Council should have, as a matter of courtesy, been asked its reaction to the entire matter.

"I wondr what would have been our reception if the shoe had been on the other foot. If the city proposes to retain the property, it is with a definite purpose in view," stated Reeve Warren.

Councillor Austin agreed to delete the word "maneuvring" from his motion. Councillors Passmore and William C. Kersey said the voters had killed the airpark referendum, and that closed the matter as far as they were concerned.

Voting against Councillor Austin's motion were Councillors Passmore, Kersey and Bond. Councillor John G. Ryan seconded the motion, and the reeve also cast his vote.

Rex Hardie, staunch airpark opponent, submitted five questions to the council, and stated that the "memorial angle" to the airpark is a blind, the real purpose being of a commercial nature.

Studying Atlantic Pact Norway Informs Russia

OSLO, Feb. 2 (Wednesday) (AP).—Norway announced today she has advised Soviet Russia she is studying the possibilities for joining a defence alliance with the Atlantic powers.

"Norway will make further studies to establish under which forms and conditions Norway possibly could participate in a regional security system," said the note to Moscow.

Unofficial sources described the statement as "firm."

The Norwegian Government made public its reply to a Russian note Saturday asking whether Norway would join the proposed North Atlantic Alliance and whether she would grant the Western Powers military bases on Norwegian soil.

The Atlantic pact now is being drafted in Washington by representatives of the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Saanich Hits At Oleo Ban

Lifting of the ban on the sale of margarine in British Columbia will be asked of the Provincial Government by Saanich Council, it was decided last night.

The motion was introduced by Councillor Leslie H. Passmore and seconded by Councillor John G. Ryan.

Li Asks Reds To Begin Talks

NANKING, Feb. 1 (AP).—Acting President Li Tsung-Jen today told China's Communists in effect to quit raising new demands and begin peace talks.

Li struggled with the task of trying to arrange a nation-wide settlement while apparently approving attempts at separate peace deals for Nanking, Shanghai and Hankow.

The Reds were reported putting the pressure on Hankow, Government base more than 300 miles southwest of Nanking.

Brief reports reaching Nanking said at least 120,000 Red troops from the Central China Command were massing north of Hankow.

Fisheries Officials Study Possibility Of Expanding B.C.'s Oyster Trade

Possibility of expanding British Columbia's oyster trade is being studied by the Department of Fisheries.

Practically the entire trade now is built around mature Japanese oysters for the cooking trade. Fisheries officials, pointing to the huge trade in half-shell or cocktail oysters in Eastern Canada and the United States, feel that local producers may be missing a good thing.

The department has prohibited the import of a new hybrid Japanese oyster seed, which is smaller than the type now being grown here, until more is known of its breeding habits, said George J. Alexander, deputy minister. The department wants to know whether the new type will cross breed with the old and what the effect will be before allowing it into the Province for commercial use. It is now being tried in the state of Washington.

British Columbia's oyster trade is now valued at $100,000 with the main production centres at Boundary Bay, Pender Harbor, Comox and Ladysmith. Fisheries officials say this trade could be greatly increased.

According to Dr. D. B. Quayle, research biologist, the half-shell trade offers definite possibilities. Native small oysters, Olympias, are selling for about $20 a gallon compared to about $4 for the big Japanese variety.

SLOW-GROWING

The Olympias, however, are slow-growing and require a lot of special care in cultivation, according to Dr. Quayle. They require seven years to mature. The Japanese oysters mature in three years but they could be harvested at the end of one year for the half-shell trade.

Cost of harvesting would be greater and more careful selection would have to be exercised, according to Dr. Quayle, but with a price spread of $18 a gallon between large and cocktail oysters, it should be well worth while.

Stand-In for Groundhog Won't Like What He Sees if He Peeks Out Today

Don't look for the groundhog at noon today even if it is February 2. There just aren't any in the Victoria area, according to Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum.

But there's a ray of hope for those who have been depending on the groundhog's Spring forecast.

The Hoary Marmot, or Whistler, a cousin of the groundhog, may take over the forecast on Vancouver Island.

Basing his theory on the official summary of Victoria weather so far this year, the weatherman doubts the Hoary Marmot will like what he sees.

The summary of January's weather, Dr. William Burton, government meteorologist, reports, can be presented in one word: Abnormal.

Here are the abnormal aspects of the weather in the first month of 1949:

Mean temperature for the month, 33 degrees, six degrees below the normal January mean.

Precipitation, 0.80 inches, least January rainfall since records were started in 1885.

Sunshine, 117 hours, more by a full 48 hours than is customary for January.

Highest barometer reading on record, 30.805 at sea level, January 28. Previous high of 30.77 was recorded in December, 1921, and November, 1930.

MAXIMUM 49

The summary also reports a maximum temperature for the month of 49 degrees on January 6. Lowest reading was 20 degrees, on January 24 when the "on the grass" reading was 18 degrees.

Observatory officials refuse to predict exactly what the marmot will encounter if he does show up on the dot of noon today.

Officially, the weather forecast calls for clear skies this morning, becoming cloudy this afternoon, with rain due tonight.

Early Operations Uncovered Nazism

"THE Communist Conspiracy in the United States," which continues on Page 3 of The Colonist today, deals primarily with findings of the U.S. House Committee on Un-American Activities as they affected the growing threat of Communism.

That, however, has not been the sole concern of the committee (although it has been the main source of obstruction and criticism hurled at the committee, its members and its methods).

Robert E. Stripling, author of the series and for ten years the committee's chief investigator, tells in today's installment of earlier operations which uncovered many of the Nazi, Fascist and Japanese activities prior to and in the early years of the World War.

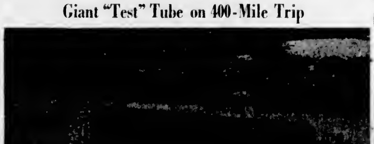
Giant "Test" Tube on 400-Mile Trip



—Central Press Canadian.

This all-welded steel tube, 375 feet long and 35 feet in diameter, is shown soon after it embarked on a 400-mile trip through the Intracostal waterway and the Gulf of Mexico from Pascagoula, Miss., to Pasadena, Texas, where it will become part of the vehicular tunnel under the Houston, Texas, ship channel. It is the first of four sections to be built and shipped in this manner before the tunnel can be completed.

Industries' Work Week Drops as Power Curbed

VANCOUVER, Feb 1 (CP) — Industrial power consumption on the British Columbia Lower Mainland is being cut 30 per cent effective at midnight.

A Vancouver paper today in one unofficial tabulation, estimated some $270,000 a week in wages will be lost.

About 25,000 of the area's 53,000 workers are expected to be directly affected. Few lay-offs are predicted but the estimates said the industrial working week, in some cases, will be reduced by 12 hours. These workers receive from 65 cents to $1.50 an hour.

Meanwhile the drought continued into its 55th day. The weatherman forecast intermittent rain for tomorrow but he said it would not be heavy. British Columbia Electric Company officials mobilized 70 men to see that sweeping power restrictions are enforced.

Mayor Charles Thompson today appealed to the electric company to exempt sawmills from the restrictions because of the already short sawdust production. Sawdust is a main fuel in Vancouver. The company said it would be investigated.

The weather bureau today announced that Vancouver had the dryest January in the 47 years during which records have been kept. Total precipitation was 84 of an inch, including rain and snow. Previous dry record was 3.42 inches in 1937.

Council Hears Saanich Share Of Wage Bid

Saanich share of increased wages being asked by Greater Victoria school teachers would be $54,450, John B Tribe, municipal clerk and treasurer, informed the council last night.

Mr Tribe said this figure would represent 6.5 mills on the school rate. Total demands for all municipalities amounted to $330,000, he said.

Reeve E. C Warren noted that this year one mill will equal about $13,400 compared with $12,500 last year.

Council instructed Mr. Tribe to submit suitable information to the Greater Victoria School Board for use during arbitration proceedings.

Councillor William C. Kersey stated he felt the demands were far too great, but Councillor Leslie W. Passmore contended that teachers in the lower income bracket were deserving of increases.

Norman Jaques, Alberta M.P. Dies Suddenly

OTTAWA, Feb 1 (CP). — Norman Jaques, 68, a pioneer advocate of Social Credit and member of Parliament for Wetaskiwin, Alta., since 1935, died suddenly here yesterday.

Son of a large London, England, family, Mr. Jaques came to Canada in 1901 and settled near Castor, Alta., as a farmer. In the early 20's, when Maj C H. Douglas launched his Social Credit manifesto in England, he became closely associated with Maj Douglas and a pioneer in the movement in Canada.

His death leaves the Social Credit standing in the Commons at 12. The Liberals have 124, Progressive Conservatives 67, C.C.F. 32, others eight. There are two vacancies.

After resting at funeral parlors here until Wednesday, the remains will be taken to Edmonton for a public service and burial. The service will be held at the All Saints' Cathedral, February 7.

Survivors, besides Mr. Jaques' widow, are two daughters, Mrs. L. F. Willan and Miss Nanette Grace Jaques, both of Edmonton. In addition, five brothers and four sisters, all in England, survive.

Modify Report Of Latest Test In U.S. Plane

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP) — Government officials familiar with the air force X-1 rocket test plane said today it has reached more than halfway to its estimated goal of 1,700 miles an hour and 800,000 feet altitude.

They were inclined to question the interpretation given in a Cleveland speech by Lawrence D. Bell, president of the company which built the plane, that it had gone the whole way.

The only official statement on the X-1 from the air force is that it has gone "hundreds of miles (an hour) faster than the speed of sound." At the high altitudes (above 30,000 feet) where the X-1 performs best, the speed of sound is only 660 miles an hour.

Unofficial information is that the little plane's best speed has been just less than 1,000 miles an hour, and its best altitude more than 60,000 feet.

Clinic Visits Cordova Bay

The Mobile Chest Clinic visited Cordova Bay on Monday and 235 residents of the district were X-rayed. Mrs. E W. Walker of the Saanich Health Unit was in charge during the day. The committee of registrars, all members of the local Parent-Teachers' Association, consisted of Mrs K M Lewis, Mrs. P Williams, Mrs. J. Walker, Mrs. E Buckle, Mrs K. K. John, Mrs. G Ross, Mrs. K R. Genn, Mrs. Noel Andrew and Mrs. I. E. Green. Mrs. V. I Goddard was in charge of the ledger.

FAVOR FAST TIME

Saanich Council last night went on record as favoring daylight saving time.

James H. Wheeler, secretary-treasurer, South Saanich Farmer's Institute, wrote to the council opposing the measure.

Voting against the motion favoring the fast time were Councillors William C. Kersey, George Austin and Kenneth R Genn, who contended that a hardship was worked on the farmers.

Greater Victoria Property Owners' Association will meet at 1418 Douglas Street, 8 p.m., February 3. to discuss the mill rate, etc. Property owners, please attend. •••

Give Concert At Hospital

An informal concert party was given Monday night at the T.B. Pavilion of the Jubilee Hospital by members of the Victoria Light Opera Company. It was under the auspices of the Florence Nightingale Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

The company presented an hour and a half's musical program, which included excerpts, in costume, from Madame Lugrin-Fahey's light opera, "The Brideship," and a number of solos.

A highlight of the evening was a puppet show by William Neilson, who, with his wife who manages his musical effects, has recently returned from tours of the West Indies and the Bahamas.

Taking part in the performance were Mme Fahey, Harold Ker, John Logie, W. Fahey, Louise and Stanley Martin, Beverly Baynton, Vivian Talbot, Burl Hannison, Mrs. Gardiner, Mary Gardiner, Vern McBeath, Mervin Beveridge, Arthur Corville, Thyra Gaetz, and Elsie Lucas. Doreen Bull and Audrey Latham, dancers, contributed tap numbers.

Dealers at Odds On Meat Prices

Some Victoria meat dealers are apparently at marked variance with Vancouver wholesalers in price forecasting, according to reports published in the respective cities this week.

Locally, dealers were of the opinion that beef prices would rise in British Columbia because United States areas, "starved" due to stock losses during the cold wave, would absorb more Canadian beef.

In direct opposition to this forecast, Vancouver dealers are quoted as saying that United States cattle buyers are passing up the Canadian market because of a big supply at home.

If the proof is in the present eating, the Vancouver dealers seem to be having the best of the argument. In the past two weeks beef prices in Vancouver have dropped ten cents a pound, it is reported.

Will Rebuild Admirals Road

Reconstruction of Admirals Road between Gorge Road and Cowper Avenue is being planned for this year, Ward Seven Councillor Leslie H Passmore said last night.

The work will be paid for out of the ward appropriation. Consideration will be given to a request from the Craigflower Parent-Teacher Association for a sidewalk in the area.

Councillor K. R. Genn stated that it was unfair to expect councillors to pay for sidewalks out of ward appropriations. He recommended that the estimates committee consider setting up a special fund for this work.

Montreal South Shore Homes Flooded as Ice Jam Breaks Up

MONTREAL, Feb. 1 (CP) — Nearly 200 south shore residents were awakened and trapped in their Longueuil homes today by a sudden flood of the St. Lawrence.

Tons of ice that swept in behind the rushing wall of water early this morning splintered two small dwellings and wrenched several others from their foundations.

The marooned persons were rescued by rowboat or carried through the raging waters on the shoulders of hastily-formed relief squads.

CLING TO ROOFS

Many had time only to throw overcoats over their night clothing. At least three families climbed to the roofs of their houses to await rescue.

Because of the jamming ice floes and the shortage of oars, most of the boats had to be pushed with poles or by hip-booted men wading in the shallower areas.

Harbor officials blamed the flood on an ice jam during the weekend at Longue Pointe, east of Longueuil. They said flood threats usually come first around the middle of December but because of the mild Winter and lack of prolonged cold spells the situation became acute later this season.

WATER RECEDES

Late today the water had largely receded. With an expected drop in temperature tonight it was believed further immediate danger was over although another mild spell might suddenly change the situation.

Most of the rescued said they owed their lives to the shriek of the Longueuil fire siren, sounded as a warning. They jumped from bed to find water flooding their homes.

"By the time I got to the front room the water was above the chairs and I had to climb up on the highest piece of furniture I could find," said Mrs William Slattery. "Our chairs and tables were floating around the house."

Urges Parley For Israel And All Arabs

RHODES, Feb. 1 (AP).—Mediator Ralph J. Bunche proposed today armistice talks between Israel and all the Arab nations at war with her.

King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan promptly endorsed the plan and called upon his Arab allies to join such a meeting.

Bunche's proposal was disclosed in Amman as armistice talks here between Israel and Egypt hung in delicate balance.

Informants said Bunche had suggested that Israel give up certain portions of the potentially-rich Negev Desert in Palestine. The Jews told Bunche that talk of giving them up now is not realistic.

Actual talks between Israel and the Egyptians are at a standstill.

Abdullah said the proposed armistice conference with all the Arab nations might be the key to peace in the Holy Land.

Edwards Named To Replace John Belcher

LONDON, Feb 1 (Reuters) — Lewis John Edwards, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Health, has been appointed parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade. He succeeds John W. Belcher in a junior ministerial reshuffle officially announced tonight.

MINOR CHANGES

Prime Minister Attlee simultaneously announced a series of changes in minor Government posts. However, the reshuffle was so limited that it came as an anti-climax to recent speculation there would be a major cabinet shift.

Edward's appointment to succeed Belcher was the only change related to proceedings of the Lynskey tribunal which investigated allegations of corruption in Government offices.

Oddities

LONDON, Feb. 1 (CP). — The Labor Party withdrew tonight campaign leaflets showing a picture of a "postwar" British baby.

The caption said "the prams of Britain are filled with the bonniest babies in living memory."

The rival Conservative Party pointed out the picture wasn't a postwar baby.

As a matter of fact it was a picture of His Royal Highness, the Duke of Kent, a nephew of the King, taken in 1935.

ST PAUL, Feb 1 (CP) — Mrs Jeanette C. Darling, 62, charged in her divorce suit that her husband went to the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby, Mont., July 4, 1923, and hasn't been home since.

Judge John W. Boerner today granted a default divorce on grounds of desertion. The husband, Edward Darling, now lives at Cody, Wyo. The two were married here in 1908.

MOFFAT, Ont., Feb. 1 (CP).—Grocer R. S. Elsley, 60, would go through fire to keep a customer. Noticing flames shooting from a house across from his store in this village 15 miles from Guelph, he raced inside Monday and dragged out Harry Smith, 45, unconscious just before the fire engulfed the three-room cottage. He told interviewers: "He's a good customer."

Meeting to Break Deadlock Planned By U.N. Atomic Energy Commission

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 1 (CP) —The United Nations Atomic Energy Commission may meet next week to try to break the deadlock on plans for world control of atomic energy.

Informed sources said today the 11 members of the commission have agreed that they would be ready to meet February 11 if a request for a session is made.

No requests have been received to date by the secretariat, however.

UP TO MALIK

Calling of the meeting would be up to Jakob Malik head of Russia's permanent delegation here. He is chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission this month.

If the Commission fails to meet there is the alternative of talks among the six permanent members of the Commission—Canada and the Big-Five powers.

Canada is included because of her atomic resources and the role the Dominion played in developing the atomic bomb. The Dominion is represented on the commission by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, head of the Canadian delegation. A trained scientist, he is a leading member of the commission.

The General Assembly in Paris last Autumn called for the Six-Power conferences. The Russian bloc fought the recommendation on the grounds that any such talks would be sure to fail.

VOTED SUSPENSION

Last May the commission voted to suspend all attempts to agree on world atomic control, charging that Russia blocked the way. Russia and the Ukraine voted against the suspension, being defeated 9 to 2.

The nine members voting for suspension at the same time approved a plan for strict international control of atomic energy while Russia demanded that all atomic bombs be destroyed first and hedged on control plans.

McNaughton brought the majority report before the Assembly. It approved the report 40 to 6 and directed the commission to resume sessions.

Russia then made a new proposal to the effect that there should be simultaneous agreements for destruction of atomic bombs and international control measures.

This might have looked like a step towards an agreement. But Western powers quickly dubbed it a phony. Russia did not agree to waive the right of veto on atomic matters or agree to the majority's control plan.

Order Check On Apartments

A crackdown on unlicensed apartment and rooming houses in Saanich was ordered last night by council.

Council expressed determination to bring the buildings up to standard, and instructed the building and sanitary inspector and fire chief to carry out a full investigation.

They will report to the health committee, headed by Councillor George Austin, which will decide on further action.

G. Henderson-Watt, sanitary inspector for the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit, informed the council that building and sanitary standards are not being adhered to in many rooming houses in the municipality.

J. S. Taylor, building inspector, explained that during the war, because of the Dominion Government Emergency Shelter Regulations, it was almost impossible to force tenants out of living accommodation below standards.

Separate Traffic Control Unit Not Needed Yet—Aldermen

Opinion was expressed yesterday by some members of City Council that Victoria is not yet big enough to warrant establishment of a separate department in the City Hall to deal with traffic control.

Mayor Percy E George, Alderman Edward Williams and Alderman M Aubrey Kent were questioned yesterday concerning a statement made in City Council Monday by Alderman H M. Diggon

Alderman Diggon said "the time is fast approaching" when creation of a separate traffic control department at City Hall would become a necessity.

Mayor George declared he favored the idea of an advisory board to deal with traffic problems He added, however, that the town planning commission had been dealing with traffic problems for some time and considered it capable to continue at least until the city's growth created a greater number of traffic problems

"There is no doubt that the need will arise for creation of such a department, stated Alderman Williams. "But at the moment I think the police department is able to handle the problem efficiently and more economically than a separate department."

Aside from the "Fountain" intersection, Alderman Kent did not think there were any other traffic problems facing the city that could not be handled adequately by the police or one of the civic committees already in existence

"Little Work" Delays Jan Peerce's Dinner

Jan Peerce the noted American tenor, who is appearing at the Royal Theatre this evening didn't get his dinner until 8 o'clock last night

According to Warner Bass, who has been with Peerce for ten years, with a gap of two seasons during the war, dinner was nearly missed altogether

It developed that Peerce after stepping off the afternoon boat from Vancouver and checking into the Empress Hotel, had decided to do a little work The work turned out to be a rehearsal of the complete new program to be presented in San Francisco, plus a new presentation coming up with the Portland Symphony, plus "some nice new things" for next season

A LITTLE SAD

Pianist Bass looked a little sad as he listened to Peerce describe the six programs they had used on the present tour

"You can't use the same things over and over," Peerce said defensively.

Asked about Victoria the singer said that he thought it was "a bit colder" than the last time he was here He remarked that he was hoping to be able to buy cashmere sweaters for his daughters here, because they had liked the ones he got before

LIKES CANADIANS

He expressed satisfaction in his present Canadian tour, but added that he wasn't entirely sold on the exhilarating effect of 40-below weather such as he encountered on the Prairies

He liked Canadian audiences "Lots of encores" he remarked smiling

His most exciting moment came when he made his debut at the "Met" in November 1941

"After all it's the moment every singer strives for," he pointed out

He added that his association with Toscanini was a great pleasure and satisfaction.

ALWAYS GRATEFUL

Peerce remarked with emphasis that he "would always be grateful for the response of the public" that had enabled him to make a steady growth through the years He added that he studied constantly because he felt he had no right to grow careless or become stagnant

The two artists, in sketching tonight's concert, said that a group of old English airs would open the program German and French songs would be featured, they said, as well as songs in English by contemporary composers

Warner Bass was looking sad again, and Peerce enthusiastic at last hearing The singer was discussing his plans for today and suggesting "a little work" for this afternoon

Division in China Repeats Tragic History

WHILE it is difficult at this distance to gauge correctly the maelstrom of criss-crossing events in China, there is little doubt that continued division of the ancient land under conflicting rulers with a populace at civil war is retarding its ultimate recovery and usefulness to the world. Those who would fight with Wang in the morning and with Woo in the afternoon have not helped their country, pressed now by Communist aggression and reduced to a state of chaos greater probably than that of any other period in modern history.

It is difficult to escape the conviction that the Western world has lost a very great opportunity; that its preoccupation elsewhere may yet prove to have been one of the most expensive mistakes in human affairs. From one of the "Big Four" powers of the world, China has slipped into disorder; a prey to inflation, civil war, chaos and famine to a degree perhaps never equaled in this century. A last-minute attempt to revive resistance in the four southern provinces may or may not prove a rallying ground in the national cause. Meanwhile for countless millions of Chinese there seems to be little ahead but misery.

The world has grown too small not to be influenced, not to be affected profoundly by such a state of affairs. Of what profit will it be to bolster up Japan, an erstwhile enemy, while China, many times its size and vastly superior in every potentiality, slips back into a decadence which has been so long, so strangely moving a part of its ancient history? The future of the whole Pacific bowl has been affected. Every nation living on its shores will feel the effect of the renewed collapse of this wasted and war-weary giant. It is too late now for regret, but is it too late for some forward-looking help to a patient and long-suffering people.

State Has No Right to Juggle With War Prize Money

JUST because distribution of nearly $3,000,000 in prize money won by Canadian servicemen in the World War would present some administrative difficulty, the Naval Board intends to recommend to Parliament a course of action tantamount to repudiation of debt. Canada receives the money from the Admiralty in trust, and no authority exists for its diversion to a benevolent or any other fund. If Parliament should put its seal of approval on the species of juggling with trust funds suggested by the board it would be breaking faith with the men to whom the money rightly belongs. Worse still, it would be setting a very dangerous precedent; no money held in trust by the state would be safe.

Possibly many of the men to whom this prize money is owing would agree to its being paid into naval and air force benevolent funds; but that is not the point. The vital issue raised by the Naval Board's too hasty proposal is that Parliament, without consulting the beneficiaries, is being asked to legislate these men out of their right to a division of spoils of war granted by statute and faithfully adhered to for 700 years. That would be wrong in law and in principle.

The thin end of the wedge between the citizen and his own money was inserted by the Government when it authorized the Revenue Department to hold back refundable savings against income tax arrears without reference to those for whom the savings were held in trust. That sort of invasion of personal property rights should be arrested before it gains any more ground. Nor should governmental authorities be permitted to sidestep a responsibility to disburse funds simply because it would be troublesome. If the boot were on the other foot and these servicemen owed the Government money, would they be allowed to escape payment?

Mill Bay Ferry Too Valuable to Lose

IT would be a serious blow to travel facilities on the southern part of the Island were the Mill Bay ferry service to be abandoned. Yet that apparently is the prospect should the terminals not be repaired quickly or some definite assurance given as to when that will be done. The operating company has announced it will move the ferry vessel to the Mainland for service there in the event no satisfactory arrangement is made.

Absence of the Mill Bay ferry would disrupt the triangular scenic tour between Victoria, Brentwood and the Malahat, a favorite route for visitors and residents alike. Tourist traffic is expected this year to be higher than ever, with a greater number of cars brought to the Island than before. It is imperative that no hitch be allowed to occur that would rob visitors of this popular cross-channel route, and affect adversely the resorts and amenities established in the Brentwood area.

Every effort should be made by the Provincial Public Works Department, which closed the docking terminals a month ago and is responsible for putting them in shape again, to enable an early start to be made on the work. Not unnaturally the operating company desires to know where it stands if it is to keep valuable equipment lying idle for weeks at a time. Material shortages plague many construction jobs these days, but the Mill Bay ferry is too necessary to go out of commission for good, or for any extended period, because of inability to come to agreement. One expects the department to put its best foot forward in the interests of the area concerned.

OVERCROWDING ON BUSES

Sir,—I would venture to call the attention of the authorities to the overloading of the buses causing much inconvenience and danger to the traveling public.

As an example I would mention that on the outgoing Willows bus, at about 5:55 p.m. on Saturday, January 29, a lady passenger, while alighting from the forward end of the bus, got her dress caught in the door and was being dragged along when the bus started. The bus was stopped by other passengers calling out to the driver what had happened.

On stopping the bus and reopening the door, so as to release the dress of the lady, the driver started the bus off again, remarking to the other passengers that it was their fault as the bus was so overcrowded he could not see.

It appears to me that the company has no right to overcrowd the buses to such an extent, and should be held responsible for so doing. No attention is paid to the red line. Nor have I ever seen the "Full" notice used on a full bus.

The bus company should be forced to put on an extra bus whenever the regular scheduled bus is full. When a passenger pays his bus fare he expects to be entitled to a seat and not forced to stand up.

H. WILSON.

INDONESIA

Sir,—Your quotation of Oliver Goldsmith's lines: "Taught by the Power that pities me, I learn to pity them," might apply to those who desire the emancipation of the subject races of mankind, although emotion is only a small factor prompting the desire.

Abraham Lincoln was assassinated for freeing the Negro; but imperialistic animosity continues to persecute them. Imperialist ambitions will hold the slaves of colonial expansion in subjection until the Abraham Lincolns release them, or they are slaughtered in an endeavor to free themselves.

President Truman pledged a world crusade for "Peace, Plenty, Freedom." Unfortunately, uttered words often form pretty sentences, but their practical application is poles apart, as all social scientists are painfully aware. The day may dawn when not only the Polynesians and Micronesians will obtain "independence," but all the subject peoples of South America, Africa, etc., will also be freed. God speed the day!

Factual evidence could easily refute the rambling expressions of your esteemed correspondent, Mr. A. Y. Watts, but could not be adequately dealt with in a limited letter.

If reaching "a stage of development" is essential to self-government, I am afraid the white races have made a terrible mess of things.

WANT CHRISTMAS CARDS

Sir,—Through the medium of your paper, may I ask any one having old Christmas cards to post them to England for use in the schools. My sister writes that there are so many uses for them, they cannot get enough for the children. Address Miss J. Sharps, 185 Banbury Road, Oxford, England. Thank you.

The Quality of Mercy

The quality of mercy is not strain'd,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath: it is twice blessed;
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes:
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown;
His sceptre shows the force of temporal power,
The attribute to awe and majesty,
Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings;
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute to God himself,
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When mercy seasons justice

—SHAKESPEARE.

(From "The Merchant of Venice.")

Power, like a desolating pestilence,
Pollutes whate'er it touches; and obedience,
Bane of all genius, virtue, freedom, truth,
Makes slaves of men, and, of the human frame,
A mechanised automaton

—SHELLEY.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

ANYONE who has the requisite wind is at liberty to take up bagpipe playing. There's no law against it—even if some queer people think there should be.

That will be why the United States army barracks at Fort Lewis, Washington, is currently echoing to the pibroch. Not precisely like the strains you might hear at Edinburgh Castle, perhaps, but you must make allowances for American improvisation.

For example, the pipers of the Second United States Infantry Division can so far play only four tunes—and one of them is "Oh Susanna"!

This would so shock the Scots Guards their bearskins would fall off, I'm sure, but they've only themselves to blame. Their pipers walked along the Mall one wartime day with such magnificent eclat that Major-General Harry Collins gaped in envy. So when the war was over and he was posted to Fort Lewis he bought nine sets of bagpipes and picked his men.

"Play them," he commanded, just as though the piob-mhor was a bazooka. Perhaps that accounts for "Oh Susanna."

PUFFING FOR YEARS

And if it surprises you that bagpipes are so versatile, let me add that one day in the studios of CJVI I heard—and recognized—"Mairzy Doates" being fingered on the chanter. Before that I thought I knew what to expect from a bagpipe; after that nothing could astonish me.

Which may be just as well.

The Fort Lewis band have a stern, if feminine, rival, as it happens; the "Scottish Highlanders" of the State University of Iowa, who have been puffing their cheeks now for several years and claim to be the biggest (65 pipers) and most expensively garbed pipe band in the world.

Like the Fort Lewis boys, the Iowans owe their tartans to overseas indoctrination. Twelve years ago an American colonel stood on the Esplanade at Edinburgh Castle watching a piping demonstration—and caught the virus.

He was so thrilled that when he was appointed head of the Military Department of the Iowa University he decided to start a pipe band.

At first the idea didn't catch on. The male students were shy of showing their knees below a kilt, but at length one brave chap volunteered to take a course of instruction in Canada. He returned full of strathspeys and Scots fervor and communicated his newly acquired lore to four other students.

GIRLS TOOK OVER

Came the day when the five pioneers paraded in full Highland costume—and the feminine reaction was so enthusiastic all the other male students rushed to enroll. The band co-opted an experienced Boston pipe-major and toured all over the United States during the next few years, from triumph to triumph.

During the war so many male students enlisted that the girls took over, and they're still in possession. Now they're getting ready to take part in this year's Highland gatherings in Scotland. They also have a date to play at Edinburgh Castle, from whence came the idea that led to the Iowa "Scottish Highlanders."

Compared to the Fort Lewis boys, who are still in the penance of their novitiate, the Iowa girls are apparently accomplished pipers. They claim to have traveled 36,000 miles in the United States and Canada, and to have entertained something like 2,500,000 people. "Mairzy Doates" is therefore unlikely to be in their repertoire when they visit the Braemar Games.

One could expect the unexpected when Highlanders and Americans and bagpipes get together, however. For instance.

PIECE DE RESISTANCE

Early in 1942, when United States armed forces were about to establish a base at Prince Rupert, an advance party arrived in that city to survey the situation. You may remember that the 2nd Canadian Scottish were up there on garrison duty at the time, and naturally the Victoria men were ready with traditional hospitality. The O.C., Major "Jock" MacGregor, V.C., invited the senior visiting officers to the mess. In their honor he had the band play Retreat, and the pipers and drummers really extended themselves to put on a good show. The Americans were visibly pleased.

It happened, though, that Pipe-Major Ian Duncan, now one of this city's best-known traffic officers, had arranged a little surprise for the visitors, unknown to the C.O. After the formal Retreat the pipes and drums struck up "Marching Through Georgia," like "Oh Susanna" well within the compass of the Highland bagpipe. This was to be the piece de resistance.

Being the gentlemen they were the American officers did their best to acknowledge the gesture gracefully, but there was a noticeable coolness in their reaction.

They belonged to a Southern regiment!

MACHINERY for closer and smoother trade consultations between the United Kingdom and Canada is being put into operation.

The first meeting of the United Kingdom-Canada continuing committee on trade and economic affairs has opened in London under the chairmanship of Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner in the United Kingdom. Mr. Robertson is not leaving his overseas post to take over his new job as Clerk of the Privy Council and Secretary to the Canadian Cabinet here until March.

The establishment of this permanent joint committee was announced during the visit to Canada last year of Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer. It has three main objectives: To provide a continuous exchange of information between the two Governments on all matters affecting trade relations; to provide a medium for discussion of problems and difficulties arising from either government or business sources in the two countries and make joint recommendations to the two Governments; to study the long-term trade picture and recommend measures which should be taken on either side in the light of developments.

Scope of discussions is to be broad and flexible. The committee will deal, for example, with subjects varying from complaints of Canadian manufacturers in connection with token shipments to Britain, to a study of the factors which are hampering acceleration of British exports to Canada. There are grave difficulties ahead in this field in view of the British policy of reducing purchases from Canada.

The continuing committee is to meet alternately in London under the chairmanship of the Canadian High Commissioner in the United Kingdom, and in Ottawa under the chairmanship of the United Kingdom High Commissioner in Canada. It will report in Britain to Sir Stafford Cripps and in Canada to Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

The Department of National Health and Welfare is looking for persons to man its growing chain of medical aid posts being built to serve Canada's Indians and Eskimos all the way from Coppermine, on the rim of the Arctic Ocean, to Lac Seuil, in remote Northwestern Ontario.

More than a dozen nursing stations have just been completed or are in the process of building. The stations are prefabricated structures with living-quarters for staff and bed space for at least four patients.

Full staff for each station is a graduate nurse, a practical nurse and a fireman-laborer. Dr. P. E. Moore, Director of Indian Health Services, would like to hear from nurses "with energy, initiative and interest in tackling a pioneer job."

Although there are "grave problems of distribution," the world supply of basic food, as a result of the 1948 harvests, is sufficient for the first time since the war, according to Dr. G. H. S. Barton, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

Looking into the future, Dr. Barton states there are two disturbing imponderables. One is the rising tide of world population; and the other is, where is the food to come from with which to feed the increasing population? Production will have to be up 25 per cent from the present figure to feed the estimated world population in 1960.

Barring scientific miracles, there are only three ways to improve the food situation position, Dr. Barton says. These are: More attention to soil conservation, by cutting down waste, and more intensive and careful use of fish from the sea and fresh waters.

In Whose Best Interests?

(From The Edmonton Journal)

IN the directors' report to the annual meeting of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, held in Edmonton, there appeared these sentences:

> "We have constantly for three years argued for the retention of the ban on oleomargarine to protect the dairy industry, believing sincerely that it was in the best interests of Canada. We have no selfish feelings for having taken this stand."

Canadians will be happy to learn that selfish motives have not ruled the dairy farmers; at times, they have wondered.

Hon. David Ure, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, has been wondering also. Speaking to the assembled delegates at the organization's banquet, he read the D.F.C. statement of policy. He had to admit he saw little or nothing about cows, health of animals or improved production; he did see much about controls, prices, protection and restrictions. Such concentration on "controls" is not peculiar to the dairy industry, but he thought no national organization should "focus all its attention" on them.

The directors of the D.F.C. are hopeful that Ottawa will appeal the Supreme Court of Canada decision on margarine to the Privy Council. They would like to see the present ceiling price removed, but the floor price retained for five years. If margarine stays, they urge that dairy farmers be allowed to export butter and other dairy products to the United States. From other quarters, the demand for "colored" margarine continues.

The butter producers say nothing about comparative prices, but are deeply concerned lest the consumer be sold margarine disguised as butter. That is where the color proposal comes—green, or purple. Butter manufacturers use yellow coloring matter.

As we have said before, the housewife is not likely to be misled. Federal and provincial government inspectors watch all foods, and heavy penalties can be imposed on any distributor who makes false statements about a product. All that is necessary in the case of margarine is that the container or wrapper be plainly marked in printing as to the true contents, as in the case of butter.

The only possible chance for fraud being practised successfully, as we see it, is in hotels, restaurants or boarding houses. In these, margarine might be served as butter and the consumer be unaware of the substitution. If the nutritionists are right the victims would be no worse off, but they might be charged for butter, and that would be wrong both morally and legally. Here again, substantial penalties for misrepresentation probably would be effective.

Albertans will not stand for any hanky-panky that will virtually rule margarine off the dinner table—green, purple or other extra-ordinary coloring will convince the consumers of this province that their best interests have not been kept in mind.

It has never yet been suggested that shortening made of vegetable oils should be colored to distinguish it from lard.

EXCURSION TO ETERNITY

(A pleasant line of thought suggested by The Associated Press, which says we may hang an "earth satellite" just beyond reach of the planet's gravity pull.)

Shine on, shine on, man-made moon,
Fabricated none too soon,
Launched from Terra's trouble zone
To an orbit all your own.

How many passengers can you
Transport through the midnight blue,
Circling on a one-way track,
Never, never coming back?

Though we know not your dimensions,
Nor your maker's veiled intentions,
We are hopeful that you can
Carry quite a caravan.

We will offer nominations;
Sundry gents we'll gladly spare
For an endless ride up there.

We might name a few tonight;
But it wouldn't be polite.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO — For the first time in history Toronto and Victoria have been linked by sea, in the arrival in the Inner Harbor of the freighter J. H. Plummer with 3,000 tons of cargo from Eastern Canada.

50 YEARS AGO — An era of steamboat building is again setting in in local yards, and it is expected that contracts for three or four more vessels will be awarded before the end of the week.

85 YEARS AGO—Recent arrivals from England and California cause our wharves to present a most animated appearance, with little or no mooring space left for any late arrivals.

Committee Not Judicial Body

Work of Uncovering Alien Agents Highly Effective in Case of Bunds

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
Chief Investigator, House Un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1948

Edited by BOB CONSIDINE

This is the third of a series of 28 articles examining the Communist conspiracy in the United States. Mr Stripling in this exclusive series will show the reader, for the first time, the inner workings of his committee. He names names, describes Red infiltration into Government circles and gives pertinent background to cases now in the public eye.

* * *

I am not a professional apologist for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

As a member of its investigative staff for ten years I frequently spoke out against its intra-committee bickering, its chronic (as is true of all political groups) inability to keep secret matters secret, and the time it wastes in answering the rugged minority which keeps it under attack.

Those who wish committee well, but at the same time wish that it could be more discreet in its public pare its conduct with that of, say, an upper judicial court.

It is not a fair comparison. Members of Congress are not necessarily trained as impartial judges. They operate their hearings under different rules. As elected representatives of their political parties they are subject to the exigencies of their calling. They must run for re-election, keep their names alive in their home-district newspapers, guard their sovereign rights and privileges. It was ever thus and ever will it be.

"BRIEF SECRECY"

The chairman of our committee during the Alger Hiss investigation on one occasion asked the members to take an oath that they would not devulge what had taken place in a secret session. They all took the oath.

Within two hours the story was on front pages of afternoon newspapers throught the country.

I prepared the difficult Gerhart Eisler case without informing a single member beyond Chairman Thomas, until the night before the witness was called and gave his remarkable performance on the stand.

The Eisler case went like clockwork. I would urge the same procedure on my successor.

If any of the above is regarded as a reason for discontinuance of the committee, it is not intended thus. If the committee is crushed, or even vitiated by being packed with its inherent Congressional critics, the Communist Party will have cause for celebration. Communism's most formidable declared opponent in this country will have been liquidated and the conspirators can thereafter pursue their operations reasonably assured that if they run afoul of the F.B.I. there will always be elements in the Government ready to soften or ward off the blow.

NEVER WILTED

The committee has made mistakes, but in one chief instance it has never wilted, never backed up, and that is its diligent pursuit of the Communist menace in this country.

A standard of criticism of the committee is that it combats Communism wholly and ignores Fascism and other un-American activities. Yet up until the time we uncovered the Hiss-Chambers case, 25 per cent of the 19,651 pages of testimony the committee had taken concerned Nazi, Fascist and Japanese subversive activities.

Committee investigators prepared, as the first case heard by the committee, a report showing that the Nazis were maintaining a force of 5,000 uniformed storm troopers in this country's Bund camps, and that Italian Fascists were active in a number of cities.

We had Fritz Kuhn on our witness stand twice before he went on trial in New York for stealing Bund funds. Ralph Townsend was exposed as a Japanese agent by the committee in August, 1939, and was later sentenced for violation of the Foreign Agents Act.

WAR ON BUND

Fraser S. Gardner, secret agent of Silver Shirt Leader William Dudley Pelley, was convicted of perjury in a case growing out of his appearance before the committee. George Deatherage, leader of the Knights of the White Camelite, was found and exposed by the committee, as were Henry D. Allen, former Silver Shirt leader, and countless Bund members, including O. Wilhelm Kunze.

I personally seized and the committee exposed, the records of the subversive Kyffhauserbund. In 1940 we published a 414-page report on United States Nazis and their fronts. We first directed attention to the fact that Adolph Hitler was making considerable use of his diplomatic and consular officers as spies in this country.

This evidence was later cited by President Roosevelt as a reason for shutting down German consulates.

We exposed Dr Fredric Auhagen, head of the American Fellowship Forum, a Nazi front; Manfred Zapp and Guenther Tonn, of the pro-Nazi Trans-Ocean News Service. We subpoenaed the important records of the German Library of Information and the German Railroads organization, both of them Nazi fronts.

Hans Ackermann and his wife were deported after our public interrogations of them. Late in 1940 we revealed to the Post Office Department that tons of Nazi propaganda were reaching the United States by means of Japanese ships.

LISTED BUNDISTS

The Bund documents we released in a 178-page report in May 1941, were subsequently used to try and convict Kunze.

By the simple method of having our agents suffer convenient flat tires in the vicinity of Bund camps, and tabulate the licence plates of cars entering and leaving the camps, we compiled a list of Bundists working in defence plants. In time, the committee was able to send President Roosevelt a list of 17,000 persons identified with the Nazi movement in America.

Before Pearl Harbor the committee, through the industry of its investigators, had material for its eventual 287-page report showing that Japanese had detailed information concerning all the naval craft of the United States.

We showed that Japanese knew our fleet positions at Pearl Harbor, were using Japanese naval officers on the radio-equipped fishing boats, and had set up some action committees in Hawaii and on our West Coast.

INSTANTLY ASSAILED

Later, our studies of conditions in Japanese Relocation Centres brought out that disloyal Japanese were permitted to mingle with and often terrorize loyal Japanese-Americans. That led to the transfer of the relocation authority to the Interior Department.

These achievements speak for themselves. They did not go unnoticed.

But whenever we cast an inquiring eye on the equally subversive activities of the Communist Party, we were instantly assailed, though the strongest microscope could not differentiate between the nature of the party a conspiracy and that of the Germans, Japanese and Italians.

Tomorrow, Mr. Stripling discloses back-of-the-scene efforts of the Roosevelt Administration to crush the new committee.

Foreigners Not Harmed Under Reds, Thus Far

PEIPING, Feb. 1 (AP) — Things could be worse than they are for foreigners under the Communists at Tientsin, as travelers tell it.

For instance:

Right after the city fell to the Communists, a discontented cook turned to his boss and said:

"Now you cook for me."

The employer complained to the Communists. They lectured the cook, put him to work and threatened punishment if he caused any trouble.

Workers in a factory grumbled over their wages and the eight-hour day. They wrecked the kitchen in the place. Then they went to Red headquarters to complain.

They came back dumbfounded. The Communists put them on a ten-hour day and cut their wages 15 per cent.

NOT TOO COMPLICATED

Life for foreigners in the great industrial city has not become too complicated under the Communists, travelers say. All nationalities, including the heavy Russian population, are treated alike.

No foreigners were killed in the shelling of the city, but the former Italian and Japanese concessions and the old Chinese city were heavily damaged.

Foreigners are allowed to move around freely. The monetary confusion has baffled some of them. The Reds allow them to possess gold bullion but have forbidden transport or trade in it.

Smelter Union Plans Parley At Kimberley

VANCOUVER, Feb. 1 (CP). — The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) will draft demands for 1949 wage increases for 19,000 men at a conference this month in Kimberley, B.C., it was announced today.

Harvey Murphy, the union's business director, said the national wage conference, normally held in Eastern Canada, will be attended by delegates from Sudbury, Calgary, Trail and Kimberley. Eastern men will represent 14,000 workers.

EQUAL WAGES SOUGHT

He did not specify the amount the miners will seek. Last year, he said, they sought and obtained 17¼ cents an hour. He said the conference also will discuss standardization of wages.

He said union representatives will begin negotiations with the International Nickel Company and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company in April.

Mr. Murphy also announced the conference will discuss the recent action of the Canadian Congress of Labor at Port Colborne and Timmins, Ont., where the smelter union was told to "get out" and let the C.C.L. take over.

Imports Halted In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 1—Argentina halted transfers of money abroad and the importation of foreign goods today in order to permit a study of her financial policies.

The order came from the National Economic Council.

The council cancelled all pending applications for import permits. It ordered Government departments and private importers to return permits already issued.

NORTHAMPTON, England (CP)—Cobblers in Britain soon will be able to obtain a certificate of proficiency.

Of the Capital Travel Service, 504 Royal Trust Building, has been named Vancouver Island agent for the Milwaukee Railroad.

The Milwaukee Railroad agency, closed since 1940, will open this morning, the first agency having been opened here in 1911.

Mr. Blaney will be equipped to sell tickets, take reservations and furnish all information pertaining to the Milwaukee Railroad.

"We are happy to be able to reopen our agency in Victoria," stated Oliver R. Anderson, general passenger agent of the railway in Seattle, who was in the city yesterday to supervise the opening of the new agency. He was accompanied by E. C. Chapman, general agent, Vancouver.

Mr. Anderson said a two-year study had been made and officials feel that the Island has grown to such an extent that reopening of the agency is necessary. He praised the experience of Mr Blaney in transportation circles. He opened the Capital Travel Service in 1946.

The Milwaukee Railroad runs a 45-hour service between Seattle and Chicago, and its new Olympian-Hiawatha streamliner is the only one of its kind in the West.

DR. MARIAN SHERMAN

WOMEN'S RESPONSIBILITY

Women's determination to be accorded full and equal rights means that women must accept their full responsibilities, Dr Sherman stated in her report.

The harmony in human relationships is mainly women's responsibility, she added, as mothers have the major share of handling young children, thereby determining the attitudes of mind of the rising generation.

"An even greater responsibility of women was to insure flexibility of mind, both of our own minds and those of our contemporaries," she said. "The reward of a flexible mind is that they know, and often see, that the riches they have handed on are increased by those who receive them."

Dr Sherman spoke of the many happy contacts and friendships made during her year as president of the council and thanked the executive and members for their unfailing support and encouragement

In reviewing the year's activities, Mrs E E Harper, corresponding secretary, gave outstanding resolutions dealt with during the year as urging the Provincial Government to use to the full members of the Council who have special knowledge, in drafting of acts or amendments dealing with women and children, urging the Federal Government to build and maintain an adequate coast guard service for the Pacific coast and urging Attorney-General Wismer to submit necessary legislation to enable margarine to be sold in British Columbia

Mr Anthony Dawson Bachelor of Economics, University of London, who has worked with the International Labor Office in Geneva and who is now at Victoria College gave an interesting address on the working of the United Nations organization at the afternoon session.

He stated that the lack of unity within the U.N deprived it of its power and many instruments provided by the organization were not being used as they might be to be effective

Of special interest to women was the U N's objective to maintain economic stability, he said.

The situation in Europe is much more grave than the average person realizes, Mr Dawson stated, and added that there was doubt of the Marshall Plan being put into effect He said that the standard of living in Europe is expected to drop 15 per cent by 1952

Tests to engines and other equipment lasted throughout the day. E. Three other tenders are nearing completion rapidly and will undergo similar trial trips at three-week intervals. Ships will be delivered to France by crews flown here from England.

Health Officer May Exercise Move Enforcing Hospitalization

A recent amendment to the Public Health Act may be exercised for the first time in Victoria this week.

Dr. J. L. Gayton, city medical health officer, made an application to Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday to have an ailing fisherman removed from his boat to the Inner Harbor. The ailing man has refused to be taken to hospital, and is suffering from grave chronic malnutrition, Dr Gayton stated.

Under the new amendment a medical health officer may apply to a magistrate for an order to remove a sick person from premises which are unsuitable for occupancy of a person in poor health. Four days' notice must be given.

NO IMMEDIATE DANGER

Because Dr. Gayton hadn't listed the time and date in his application for the order, Magistrate Hall ruled that a new application must be made. He made the ruling after Dr Gayton assured him that the man was in no immediate danger of dying.

The health officer told the court that the man has lost considerable weight, has no heat in the boat, only emergency army rations but refuses to be taken to hospital. He said the man has received treatment in a nursing home previously, but had left to return to the boat.

Plates Pass Peel Test —Officials

Paint on British Columbia's 1949 licence plates will not peel this year, according to the officials to the provincial motor vehicle branch.

The plates were subject to a 14-day weathering test and came out looking weather-beaten but with the paint still intact, they said.

The test is the equivalent of a year's natural weathering, and shows the effects of cold, heat, rain and ice.

Last year the paint on 30,000 plates peeled off from a cause which is still undetermined.

Proposes Use Of Tax Fund For Tunnel

Setting aside each year of $36,000 from the Saanich share of the sales tax revenue to create a sinking fund to cover construction cost of a sewerage tunnel from Gorge Bridge to Saxe Point has been suggested by Councillor George Austin, chairman of the public works committee.

Councillor Austin has asked his committee to give the matter consideration. Cost of the tunnel has been estimated at $300,000 and would be the main part of a system to serve the lower parts of Saanich. It was included in a 1946 sewer by-law which was defeated.

Reeve E. C. Warren has stated that he feels $40,000 should be set aside annually from the sales tax for a road construction program.

It is expected the matter will come up for discussion at a future council meeting.

Britain-Bound Parade Fills Shipping Space

Marine News

Thinking of paying a visit to relatives or friends in the Old Country in the near future?

Many people in Victoria are planning, or have planned, such trips, reports Shipping Agent Eric Marshall, but unless reservations have already been made, the chances of making the trip this year are "pretty slim."

As far as travel by ship is concerned, Mr. Marshall said, it's practically impossible to get any accommodation for sailings anytime between April and July, inclusive. All available tourist and cabin accommodation was filled up some time ago, and there are very few vacancies in the first class bracket.

Even air travel to England is becoming heavier by the day, and reservations are pouring in from all over the country.

DELAYED VISITS

Hundreds of Victorians will be traveling to England this year, the agent said, and many hundreds more who wished to, will be disappointed.

Most of those making the United Kingdom trip from here plan making it a visit, Mr. Marshall said. "They want to see relatives and friends, and places they hold in their memories . . . all during the war such trips were practically impossible."

There are however "a considerable number" of people who are leaving Victoria for good. They have decided to live in England. Many are young couples—usually involving a Canadian man and his British war bride.

With further reference to the matter of making early reservations for sailings to England, Mr Marshall said many Victorians have already reserved accommodation for 1950 sailings.

Employees See B.C. Electric Film History

Officials and employees of the B. C. Electric on Monday night witnessed a preview showing of two films which depicted important phases in the Company's growth since its founding in Victoria in 1860.

The feature film of the preview was entitled "Dinner for Miss Creeden," which told the story of the company's history in British Columbia from the day of its founding to the present day, as seen through the eyes of Miss F. E. Creeden, former secretary to the late A. T. Goward, Vancouver Island Vice-President, and the first woman employee of the company. The other film, as a pictorial review of the construction of the company's Bridge River hydro electric power development, which was officially put into operation last October.

MISS CREEDEN HONORED

Attending the preview showing was E. W. Arnott, vice-president in charge of Vancouver Island operations, and local executive officials of the company, along with other officials from Vancouver Island including A. Bruce Robertson, vice-president in charge of the legal department.

Honor guest of the evening was Miss Creeden, who starred in the feature picture, and at the close of the showing she was introduced to the audience of employees and presented with a bouquet by Mr. Arnott.

An introduction to the films was given by H. Austin Goward of the company's public relations department, and after the preview Mr. and Mrs. Arnott entertained Miss Creeden and officials of the company at a reception in their home on Rockland Avenue.

"Your Fondue recipe was a great success, which means your Cream of Tomato Soup will be a must on our shopping list from now on."

At the Theatres

ODEON THEATRE "The Red Shoes" contains the first full-length English ballet written specially for the screen The ballet is based on the Hans Anderson fairy tale of the young girl who cannot stop thinking about her red dancing shoes, in the end the shoes take complete possession of her, forcing her to dance madly up hill and down dale, away from life and love to death. The principal characters are Moira Shearer as the girl, Leonide Massine as the shoemaker, and Robert Helpmann as the lover.

CAPITOL THEATRE The story of a gallant doctor and an equally gallant dog is unfolded in "Hills of Home," which stars the wonder dog Lassie, Edmund Gwenn and Tom Drake Gwenn appears as the doctor in a mountainous sheep-raising village in Scotland who tries to turn a farmer's son into a doctor despite strong opposition. Lassie's role in the picture becomes the most important.

ROYAL THEATRE "June Bride" is a real comedy hit. Bette Davis laughs loud and long with Robert Montgomery in this new Werner Bros' film. She plays the role of a successful magazine editor Montgomery becomes a member of her staff.

PLAZA THEATRE "So This Is New York" introduces several innovations in film making, in addition to unceasing hilarious situations to screen audiences starring Henry Morgan. It is full of laughs and amusing situations

ATLAS THEATRE No picture in years has stirred up such interest as Warner Bros' drama "Key Largo," which stars Humphrey Bogart, Edward O Robinson and Claire Trevor. The story is set in the Florida Keys, with most of the action taking place during an off-season in a resort hotel. Into this strangely quiet atmosphere come a motley array of personalities.

OAK BAY THEATRE "The Miracle of the Bells" is the film version of Russell Janney's best seller, and stars Fred MacMurray and Frank Sinatra in an appealing story of an actress' pathetic last wish and its surprising fulfillment MacMurray plays the role of a Hollywood press agent and Sinatra as a priest.

YORK INTERNATIONAL THEATRE Samuel Goldwyn's production "The Westerner" is set against the colorful and adventure-packed background of the Old West, when justice was administered at the point of a gun. Gary Cooper plays the leading role, and with him are Walter Brennan, Fred Stone, and Doris Davenport.

Says Chinese Believe Aid Insufficient

Inadequate United States aid to the Nationalist Government in China is beyond the understanding of the Chinese people as a whole.

This is an opinion of Dr. David T W. Lin, young Canadian surgeon, recently arrived in Victoria with his wife after a year as visiting surgeon in the Government hospital at Nanking.

"The Chinese find it hard to understand the United States' attitude toward their civil war," he said. "They say the United States believes that Communism should be stopped and yet is unwilling to help the Nationalist Party to do this."

HELP FROM RUSSIA

It has been proved that Russia is definitely helping and directing the Communist forces, Dr. Lin said. The Nationalist forces cannot see why the United States should not help their side in the same way.

What aid was sent, however, was deeply appreciated said Dr. Lin.

Dr. and Mrs. Lin are staying in Victoria at the home of his father, Rev. G. Lim-Yuen, an Anglican clergyman. Dr. Lin said he uses the name Lin because it is easier for westerners to pronounce. To the Chinese, both names mean the same.

Claim Opens Damage Action

Damage action against H. B Olson, proprietor of the Strathcona Hotel, was launched yesterday with the filing of a statement of claim by H. W. Davey, K.C., counsel for Everett Sisson and Mrs. Thelma Simmons, joint operators of the Strathcona Cafe.

Filed in the Supreme Court Registry, the cafe operators seek damages for breach of agreement with regard to operation of the restaurant, and ask damages for conversion of a cheque of the Strathcona Cafe for the sum of $1,616.29

Mr. Sisson and Mrs. Simmons charge that Mr. Olson violated their agreement by preventing them, their customers and their employees from using cloakrooms and other public rooms in the hotel.

They also ask that books of accounts of the Strathcona Cafe be handed over to them, claiming that the books are the property of the cafe.

HALIFAX, Feb. 1 (CP). — A Nova Scotia general election next October was hinted in Government circles tonight following sessions of the Cabinet and a caucus of Liberal legislators.

Fountain Plan Passed Over To Committee

The channelization plan for reduction of traffic hazards at the Fountain intersection was passed on Monday by City Council to its public works committee.

The plan was evolved by the Town Planning Commission from a report prepared as a gesture of good will by the Washington State Department of Highways. Council directed a letter be framed expressing its gratitude to officials who made the report.

With the plan goes the first letter of disapproval received since the plan was made public. From F C. J. Mealing district representative of the British American Oil Company Ltd., the letter asked for a hearing by council of an investigating committee. It was stated that "we perhaps may offer a substitute plan for consideration."

The oil company owns a service station at the intersection. Proposed channelization of the corner might involve entrances and exits to the service station, it was learned.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP).—Breaking out of a narrow range, the Stock Market moved higher under the leadership of motors and steels. The late rally sent prices from fractions to more than a point higher after almost an entire day of drifting about in a mixed manner. Montreal Stocks

MONTREAL, Feb. 1 (CP).—Selected issues continued on the downswing despite firming tendencies during slow trading near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market. Mining sales were fairly heavy, and the majority of issues rose fractions of a few pennies. Papers were actively traded, but led the remaining industrials on the downtrend. Base metals continued on a sharp decline. Oils were mixed, and utilities brightened.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Feb. 1 (CP).—New seasonal low levels were recorded by rye, oats and barley on the coarse grain futures market of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Weaknesses on the Chicago market stimulated selling of a fairly general nature. Support was thin in all Winnipeg grains.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THAT WORD "GEAR"—It was first Clothing, and then Armor

"Array thyself in thy most gorgeous gear."

In this line of the 16th century poet, Spenser, one finds the secret of the word "gear." But its history goes back much further and there is far more to its story.

Today "Gear" is taken for granted as a mechanical term. Most familiar, perhaps, to the layman are the gears of his car. There is the gear of a lathe and the gear of any kind of machinery. And, of course, "gear" also is used when speaking of the harness of horses or cattle and figuratively of any kind of trappings.

From its mechanical sense, which is the primary significance of "gear" today, we also have the verb, "to gear," and the expression "to be in gear."

However, at some time or other since Chaucer, this word seems to have been almost all things to all men. In Chaucer's time it was used for any kind of goods or property, especially for the appurtenances of the household.

With the advent of Elizabethan times, we find "gear" denoting affairs that would come under the heading of business matters. At this time it also was used in the essential sense of the word, in allusion to clothing. Thus Spenser's line, which we have quoted above, and again in Speser

"Clad in a vesture of unknown gear."

Perhaps it was this significance of clothing, then of harness or trappings, which extended into the definition given by John Jamieson defined "gear" as "warlike accouterments."

Now as to the etymological derivation of this word. We have "gear" from the Old English "gere" or "ger" out of the Anglo-Saxon "gearwe," meaning clothing, dress—and, already, "armor"!

A correspondent requests the correct bidding, from the North-South point of view, in the following deal:

Actually, according to this correspondent, the bidding proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 N.T.	Pass	Pass
Pass

West opened the diamond jack, and South made exactly one no-trump. There was then quite a discussion about the fact that North could have made four spades, with opinions being bruited rather freely by a large gallery that he should have responded with two spades to the no-trump opening.

Well, as so often happens, the gallery was wrong. North's two queen holding, with only a five-card suit, most decidedly did not justify a response, and although his singleton heart figured to be a bad feature at no-trump, North had every reason to think that increasing the contract would be worse.

As for the fact that North could have made four spades—first, he would have had to reach that contract, and would not have been assured of doing so merely by bidding two spades. Second, observe the luck he would have needed to win ten tricks—the diamond king on side and either a perfect diamond break or a drop of the club ten. Even though both of these breaks existed, a four-spade contract still could have been defeated through the opening lead of the club ten by East with a duck by West. East could then get a club ruff, and North would end up by losing four tricks.

No, North was not conspicuously guilty in passing one no-trump with his hand.

Mine Cave-in Damages House in Pennsylvania

CARBONDALE, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—The earth cracked wide open over an idle anthracite mine early today, swallowing up one house and damaging 13 others in a three-block area.

Sixty persons fled in night-clothing, fearing an earthquake. Three were injured.

Loud underground rumblings warned of the cave-in. A 1,200-square-foot area crumbled, the earth sagging as much as 40 feet in some spots.

SLID IN HOLE

One house slid into a 25-foot hole. Others tilted precariously, their foundations and wall cracked by the sliding earth.

Water mains burst. Telephone and electric lines were ripped out. Escaping gas added more danger. Police roped off streets and highways leading into the area to protect property from looters. Firemen were on guard against fires or explosions.

"I thought an earthquake was taking place," said Mrs. Mary McAndrew whose home was damaged.

Police estimated damage to the homes and surface areas at $100,000. No estimate was made of loss in the hardcoal mine. Reports said valuable coal-digging equipment and coal cars were crushed in the cave-in.

MINE "WORKED OUT"

The mine was leased to the De Angelus Coal Company by the Hudson Coal Company for what diggers term a "working over." Hudson had shut the pit on grounds it was "mined out." The mine recently had been closed for several days because warm Winter weather had cut anthracite coal sales.

The largest similar Pennsylvania cave-in in recent years occurred in Shenandoah, Pa., in 1940. Twelve blocks of homes were damaged by surface crackings, causing $2,000,000 damage.

Hundreds of small mines in the Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite fields are tunneled under homes. The state forbids such mining only if it creates a hazard to highways, streets or other public thoroughfares.

Carbondale, a community of 20,000, is located 20 miles north of Scranton. Residents frequently report hearing miners at work a few feet beneath their cellars. Underground blasting breaks windows in homes, knocks pictures and plaster from the walls.

Power Project Given Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Interior Department said today it has approved construction of a $21,580,900 hydro-electric power project near Anchorage, Alaska.

Assistant Secretary William E. Warne said the project includes a low dam to raise the level of Eklutna Lake and diversion of water from Etlukna Creek through a four and one-half-mile tunnel to a 30,000-kilowatt power plant.

School Water Contaminated

HALIFAX, Feb. 1 (CP).—Water in nearby Fairview School's tap system which caused a two-day student strike last week has been found contaminated by a public health laboratory test.

Paul DeWolf, chairman of the Armdale School Board which administers the school, confirmed the findings of the test and said an investigation had been started to trace the source of pollution.

Seventy junior high students—about 75 per cent of the junior high students enrolled at the 600-student school—staged a strike last Tuesday and Wednesday. They returned to classes after a bucket brigade was formed to carry drinking water into the school from a neighboring well.

PLAN NEW BUILDING

VANCOUVER, Feb. 1 (CP).—Plans for immediate construction of a $200,000 semi-permanent building to replace five home economics department huts are under way at the University of British Columbia. The huts, along with a radio society building, were destroyed Friday in a $170,000 fire.

Portland cement was first used in the United States in 1872, just 48 years after the invention of the product in England.

Stalin Yet to Prove Olive Branch Genuine

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

One thing about world reaction to "Good Old Joe's" latest olive branch it should convince him that nobody's going to reach for it until he takes his other hand from behind his back.

Virtually everyone has accepted it as merely a repetition of his old tactic of trying to convince the anti-Communist world that it is unduly afraid of him, in the hope that it will then go to sleep and let him sneak off with what he cannot take by frontal attack.

He must know by now that, to create any real confusion over his intentions, he is going to have to give up something real instead of merely making polite answers to inquiries by foreigners.

It wouldn't be natural. Like all such dynamic campaigns which maintain their equilibrium only by their own velocity, imperial Communism might itself be wrecked during such a period.

If Stalin wants to try it he could lift the Berlin blockade and agree to a decent peace treaty with Austria, and it will be taken as a real token of peace.

The Austrian conference beginning in London next Monday will provide the opportunity.

If Russia acts then as she always has acted her "peace offensive" will be shown in its true colors in record time.

If she should act like a non-aggressor it would be one of the smartest things she ever did, and one of the most embarrassing for the Allies. If Russia stops pressing her postwar luck it's going to be terribly hard for people anywhere to remember that it is merely an armistice and that the cold war still will have to be won by driving Communism completely out of business.

Game Association Favors Bag Limit

Suggests Two Buck Deer for Short Season—Illustrates Card System for Checking Kills

Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association held its monthly meeting last night at the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Auditorium and went on record as favoring a bag limit of two buck deer fo rthe 1949 hunting season and at the same time recommended the season be from September 17 to Ocober 31, inclusive.

The deer question was a popular one and drew many members to the meeting for a somewhat lengthy discussion. The directives issued at the meeting will be taken by Victoria delegates to a meeting of the Island body to be held later this month in Nanaimo, and if supported there, will be forwarded to the annual Game Convention at Harrison Hot Springs

DEER CENSUS

Inspector George C. Stevenson of the British Columbia Game Department informed members that Dr Ian McTaggart and Jim Hatter, acting in an advisory capacity to the Game Department, were at present conducting a deer census and investigation at various Up-Island points. While their report will not be completed for a week or two, they have indicated Up-Island deer are not suffering due to heavy snow but have found haven in lower areas.

These University of British Columbia experts have found some animals in poor condition and have forwarded the carcasses to the Pathological Station in Vancouver for analyses Their findings will be used by the Game Department as an aid in making the 1949 regulations.

CARD SYSTEM

The card system of licensing hunters and checking the annual kill of grouse and deer was explained and graphically illustrated to the meeting with a big replica of a game card. This system is presently being used successfully in Washington State Hunting licence is similar to an ordinary calendar and has perforated holes which must be punched out for each bird or deer killed on the corresponding date. This card would have to be sent to the Game Department at the close of the hunting season and would afford officials an accurate check on the game kill for the season. Hunters who failed to submit their cards, or licences, as they would be, would be refused another licence the next year

A motion to have the card system dealt with at the Harrison convention was carried Further action in instituting this system will likely come from the meeting in the Spring

The department asked the Victoria association to forward its recommendations regarding control of big game such as moose, caribou, mountain sheep, mountain goats, bear and elk, but the association felt that no vote would be advisable as these animals are not common in this district. A suggestion will, however, be sent to the Harrison convention that a big game hunter be allowed to shoot one moose or one elk, but not both. Elk are not legal game on Vancouver Island at any time

WAR ON COONS

Another query from the Game Department asked the association's opinion on fur-bearing animals. A motion was passed that regulations remain the same as last year except in the case of raccoons. The meeting heard that raccoons will likely be in for a rough time under 1949 regulations The little night raiders are becoming too numerous and are making themselves a nuisance to farmers and poultrymen, so officials may take them off the "fur-bearing" list and class them as pests. This would make them legal quarry at any time of year A permit would be required for shooting them after dark with the aid of a light

A letter from the Sooke-Jordan River Chamber of Commerce, asking support of a move to have Sooke Basin set aside as a game reserve and wild life sanctuary was read to the members. The move failed to gain the endorsement of the meeting as members felt that adequate space was now set aside for the protection of wildlife

On the suggestion that flooding of Campbell Lake be postponed until all standing timber below the future water level was removed, the meeting was informed the Zone Council is to meet the Provincial Cabinet to consider the matter

Duncan Chamber of Commerce submitted a full report and a copy of a letter forwarded to Fisheries Minister Mayhew regarding conditions of salmon spawning grounds on the East Coast of the Island. This was put in the hands of the executive owing to lack of time to fully discuss the question.

The Association felt some concern over the welfare of game during recent snow and cold weather Game officials gave assurance that the Department was doing all it could to help the wildlife even to the extent of providing feed for birds and deer.

Classy Cage Clowns Show Tonight at High School

Two shows in one—basketball and comedy—are on the program for spectators at the Victoria High School gymnasium tonight. The occasion is the annual visit of the Broadway Clowns who will oppose the Senior "A" K V's at 8 o'clock

AL "RUNT" PULLINS

Coached by Al "Runt" Pullins, former Harlem Globetrotter ace, who is well known to Victoria fans for his antics on the maple courts, the Clowns have drawn rave notices all across the continent.

One scribe said their show was better than that of any other club, including the Trotters. Another writer described their play as the best passing game ever seen in Oklahoma, hotbed of basketball, while still another said, "The Clowns are young enough to enjoy playing, good enough to amaze the audience and perfect in their conduct towards the officials and opponents."

Pint-sized Pullins (weight 145 pounds), who has starred in the game for more than 20 years, still manages to play part time

Only five other players are carried by the Clowns. They are Stanley Bufrell, 6 foot 3 inches, 195-pound centre, forwards Fred Pearson, former high school star, and Jim Jackson, twice unanimous all-conference selection in negro collegiate circles, and guards Robert Beaks, member of Lincoln University's great teams of the past two years, and Leon Wright, from Western State College of Illinois.

Preliminary at 7 30 p m pits Victoria College against Eatons in the second game of a best-of-three series for the Intermediate "A" men's crown. Students captured the first game and will be out to make it two straight over the Storemen.

Chenier Nears Record Break

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 1 (CP).—George H Chenier of Toronto, Canadian snooker champion, today won an afternoon exhibition snooker session from Joe Davis of England, retired world champion. Winning by four frames to two, Chenier came close to scoring a world record break

In the sixth frame Chenier broke the pyramid and succeeded in sinking one red ball on the break. He then continued running up the score with four blacks, two pinks two blacks, one pink and three blacks.

Then with the score at 94 he was faced with a difficult decision. A black ball was playable on a screw shot into the corner pocket and a pink ball presented a straight shot into the middle pocket

Chenier played the black but the ball jostled in the angle of the pocket and refused to go down.

The score of the afternoon session:

Chenier	30	96	53	74	55	94
Davis	99	21	76	36	46	47

Two Players Strengthen Wolves for Tournament

TORONTO, Feb. 1 (CP).—Two Canadian hockey players are flying to Europe to strengthen the touring Sudbury Wolves in preparation for the World Hockey Tournament in Stockholm February 12.

Don Stanley of Edmonton left Canada today and is due to reach Stockholm tomorrow Tommy Russell of North Sydney Vics is to land at London to clear immigration red tape before joining the Wolves.

Decision to reinforce the Wolves was made last month in Winnipeg at the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's annual Winter meeting.

Stanley is a cousin of rookie Defenceman Allen Stanley of the National Hockey League's New York Rangers. He played junior and senior hockey in Edmonton but dropped out this year due to business commitments.

Russell played for North Sydney until recently, when the C.A.H.A. revoked his licence because North Sydney was one player over the import limit. Last year, Russell played for Hamilton Aerovox, winners of the Ontario Hockey Association junior B title.

Announcement that the players were being sent to Europe was made tonight by George Dudley of Midland, Ont., secretary-manager of the C.A.H.A. Said he

"The Wolves will give a good account of themselves People here don't seem to realize that they have been playing mainly against Canadian players over there in these exhibition games But once the tournament starts, the only Canadian players will be with the Wolves We (the C.A.H.A.) didn't expect much from the team at the start but they'll be all right."

Athletics Acquire Young Mound Aces

Stars From Pioneer and California Loops Give Norbertmen Nucleus of Strong Staff

The sunshine was not the only harbinger of Spring for Business Manager Reg Patterson of the Athletics yesterday.

First came the press report of the sale of Dale Maycock to the A's by Twin Falls Cowboys of the Pioneer League. Then the mailman brought the papers of Maycock, Willard Boemler, Church Newman and Pete Vucurevich.

Maycock, leading pitcher in the Pioneer loop last year, bats and throws righthanded He posted 17 victories against four defeats for a won-and-lost percentage of .810 for the Cowboys in their race to the pennant He pitched 206 innings, faced 771 batters, gave up 196 hits and 100 runs, allowed 124 bases on balls and struck out 113 He allowed 89 earned runs for an earned run average eof 3 89 per game Maycock stands 5 feet 10 inches and tips the scales at 170 pounds. He is single and makes his home in Ogden, Utah.

GIANT DUTCHMAN

Boemler, who makes his home in Los Angeles, was sold to the A's by Beaumont of the Texas League. The giant lefthander—he is 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 200 pounds—pitched for Ventura in the California League last season. He compiled a record of 17 victories and seven defeats and was voted the loop's most valuable player. He is 21 years old Vucurrevich also pitched for Ventura last year He is a righthander, 20 years old, stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 180 pounds. He lives in Lowell, Arizona.

Newman is a first baseman from San Francisco He is 24 years old, is 6 feet 2 inches tall and scales 180 pounds Nothing is available on his record but he will battle it out with Vic Succola for the sack when the A's go to camp early in April

Patterson announced yesterday that improved lighting would be an aid to both players and fans this year A company will make a check of standards and focus the lights to give the maximum illumination at all points.

Other improvements to be finished before the season opens on April 21 are the building of a new concession booth for bleacher fans and repainting of the grandstand and bleachers.

Jean Williams Tips Fivepins For Loop Mark

HOW THEY STAND

	W.	L.
Dynamiters	2	1
Night Hawks	2	1
B C Electric	2	1
Single Pins	2	1
Times	2	1
Atlas Coffee Shop	1	2
Windsor U-Drive	1	2
Provincials	1	2
Five Aces	1	2
Quality Meat	1	2

All teams in the Mixed Fivepin League at Gibson's either won or lost 2-1 decisions as the third round got under way Monday night. Dynamiters, who won the first and second rounds, copped a pair of games from Five Aces to take their place in the well populated first-place tie.

Jean and Don Williams paced Night Hawks to a double win over Quality Meat, while B.C. Electric, Single Pins and Times scored similar victories over Provincials, Windsor U-Drive and Atlas Coffee Shop, respectively

Mrs. Williams gave the best individual performance by marking up a new women's high single score of 370. Elva Litherland of Atlas Coffee Shop and May White of Dynamiters shared second with 280 each, but passed Mrs. Williams in the totals. Elva Litherland's 760 score was tops, even for the men, and May White's 726 was next.

Paul Fisher of Single Pins registered the men's high single of 296, followed by Hughie Cowan of Windsors with 286 and Don Williams of Night Hawks with 272 Gowan's 741 topped the men's totals. Others to better the 700 mark were Tom Leahy of B.C. Electric, 736, Williams, 724, and Cy Wallis of Five Aces, 722.

SEATTLE, Feb. 1 (AP).—Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League today announced sale of Pitcher Jim Hedgecock to Wenatchee of the Western International baseball circuit.

Hedgecock has appeared in relief roles for Seattle and also pitched for Vancouver Capilanos in the W.I.L. He is a lefthander.

Rainier General Manager Earl Sheely said it is a cash sale but did not reveal the amount.

Award Barbara Ann Lou E. Marsh Trophy

TORONTO, Feb. 1 (CP).—Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, Olympic figure-skating champion now in professional ranks, today was named winner of the Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy as Canada's outstanding sports competitor of 1948.

BARBARA ANN SCOTT

The award, announced by Elwood A Hughes of Toronto, chairman of the five-man selection committee, was unanimous over a field of three other nominees The trophy, perpetuating the memory of the late Toronto Daily Star sports editor, is open to men and women, amateurs and professionals, in any sport in the Dominion.

Announcement came just six weeks after sports editors picked the pert ice queen as Canada's outstanding female athlete of 1948 in the Dominion-wide year-end poll conducted by The Canadian Press

She has established history in both polls, winning each three times. She previously won the Lou E Marsh Trophy in 1945 and 1947 and sports writers put her in the top slot in the 1946 and 1947 Canadian Press survey. The choice in nearly all cases was unanimous.

Three other athletes were nominated for the 1948 Marsh Trophy. They were:

Jack Parry, of London, Ont, University of Western Ontario football player, track and basketball star. Parry, chosen to represent Canada in the 1948 Olympic Games at London, was sidelined due to a leg injury a few days before the Olympics opened.

Viola Myers, crack sprinter from Toronto who represented the Dominion in the 1948 Games, and Kenneth Nunn, singles rowing champion of Toronto Argonauts Canoe Club.

Parry was nominated by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada for the Marsh award, adding an ironic touch.

Last November, the A.A.U., which has sole voting authority for the Crow Memorial Trophy as the Dominion's outstanding amateur athlete, chose Eddie Haddad of Victoria, lightweight boxing champion of Canada. Parry was an also-ran.

Estate Brings Damage Suit Against Boxer

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 1 (AP).—A $15,000 suit against heavyweight contender Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati was filed here today by counsel for the estate of Samuel Crandall.

Crandall, then fighting under the name of Sam Baroudi, died in a Chicago hospital last February, six hours after meeting Charles in the ring of the Chicago Stadium.

The petition quoted rules of the Illinois Athletic Commission as to what constitutes a foul and stated that Charles took "unfair advantage" of Baroudi "by repeatedly hitting below the belt, by holding decedent with one hand while hitting with the other, by deliberately striking decedent with innumerable rabbit punches and committing other and various acts."

The Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE

ARCADIA, Cal., Feb. 1—The track at Tropical Park, Florida, well-handled by Jerry Brady, a competent official, finished 1948 in the red with no big improvement in sight for 1949. This left an indigo touch to the earlier Florida scene, with Hialeah left to tell the major story.

Hialeah happens to be one of the feature tracks of the country—really something to look at. What story will Hialeah tell?

Here at Santa Anita, there has been around a 10 per cent drop so far in attendance and in betting. No one can tell just what this means after the first three weeks, because the weather has been a depressing factor.

There is almost certain to be another drop at Santa Anita but it won't be enough to force any cut in purses from $4 000 to $100 000. Santa Anita's past has built up too much of a backlog. It will take the full count to show what the 1948 drop will be. I don't think it will be heavy or important when you look at the program on ahead, and recall the track's effort to secure the public's good will.

Certainly no other track has gone beyond Santa Anita and Hollywood in attempting to give their patrons the best of everything.

HARD BLOW

The Citation blow was no light one here. In addition to missing the world's greatest racehorse, several big stables had cancelled out with no idea of colliding with Bull Lea's speedy son. At least that is the word that gets around.

The take here is about 8 per cent lower than you get around New York or Florida. There is becoming an increasing wariness on the part of New York players in being tapped for some 17 per cent. Start a poker game some night and take out 17 per cent for the kitty. At the end of 30 minutes see where all the money is.

New York is likely to take another good drop next season. They'll all take a financial dip but it will be lighter in California and New Jersey and probably heaviest in New York. Money doesn't last forever, especially when they nick you for 17 per cent on every bet you make.

A WORD TO BULL LEA

A year ago a certain Calumet sire was breaking all records. Among these two-year-olds just turned three-year-olds, was a horse known as Citation. Another was Coaltown. There were several more.

Now the record shows that Bull Lea hasn't produced a single winner among the two-year-olds of 1948. And these are the three-year-olds of 1949. This is the first time in memory that Calumet has no two-year-old winners for a year's test.

While this was taking place, Beau Pere (now dead), an Australian horse, had 14 winners. Count Fleet had 18 two-year-olds who finished in front. Heliopolis, Bull Reigh, Bull Dog, and others have a number of winners. But not Bull Lea.

Early last Spring, Jimmy Jones, trainer of Citation, told me that in his opinion Bull Lea's sons and daughters were due again to dominate the turf. This looked to be a sound prophecy at the time.

But with the next Derby, Preakness and Belmont not too far away, neither Bull Lea nor Calumet has shown any such contenders as Whirlaway or Citation, Faultless or Fervent—Coaltown or several others.

Rearmed looks to be one of the best of Bull Lea's production. There was a time when Flying Disc looked to have possibilities. But work as hard as he did, the able Jimmy Jones couldn't get one of his two-year-olds in front—and we have no word from Florida that his 1949 three-year-olds are setting tracks on fire.

It may be there will be a different story at Hialeah later on—in Kentucky this next Spring at Lexington and Louisville, before the Derby. It would seem a bit strange to have Derby week moving in with no Calumet starter to write about.

There will be considerable gossip about Blue Peter, Mr. Busher, at least two or three Greentree entries under the care of John Gaver, one or two Fred Hooper runners, and others who will come along later.

Maine Chance has been planning to run Mr. Busher in the $100 000 Santa Anita Derby. He is now sound and ready and could be a factor. Whether you can have a young three-year-old ready to win a big race in late February and keep him ready for a Derby test early in May is another problem. It hasn't happened that way yet.

Phils Must Prove Worth Or Look for New Places

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1 (AP).—The great experiment is over and this is the year Philadelphia Phillies start moving up in the National League—or else.

And Manager Eddie Sawyer said today that "or else" means his youngsters and veterans must produce or be prepared for a ticket to other surroundings.

Owner Bob Carpenter has spent five years building farm teams, writing huge bonus cheques for promising youngsters and allowing his managers to give kids experience—sometimes at the expense of winning.

"That day is over," said an emphatic Sawyer.

"We're taking only 36 men to camp this Spring and will keep only those who look like they'll help in 1949 regardless of their price tag. The Phillies can and should make the first division this year."

Actually Sawyer has the nucleus of a well-balanced ball club. He has youth in abundance and enough veterans to spell the youngsters in the heat of tough competition.

Here's how Sawyer sees the Phillies of 1949.

"Eddie Waitkus, acquired in the off season from the Chicago Cubs along with Bill (Swish) Nicholson, should add a lot of power to the attack."

Other experienced newcomers expected to help are Pitchers Russ Meyer and Hank Borowy, also obtained from the Cubs; Catcher Ken Silvestri from Newark, and relief Pitcher Ken Trinkel and Second Baseman Buddy Blatner, who came from New York Giants.

"I believe Granny Hamner at shortstop and Willie Jones at third will comprise one of the best left side defensive pairs in the National League. They both have all the attributes and have shown they can hit big league pitching," Sawyer said.

"Of course, I can always fall back on such infield veterans as Eddie Miller, Bert Haas and Dick Bisler, while Blatner can be used at either second or third base."

Unless a deal is worked out before the season opens, Andy Seminick looks like the catcher with Silvestri and the veteran Hal Wagner helping out.

Pitching is where the hopes of the club hang in the balance.

If youngsters like Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons deliver and Russ Meyer blossoms into the ace some experts believe he is, it's going to be a wonderful Summer for the Phillies, says Sawyer.

Stamp Winger Dominates Scoring Race

CALGARY, Feb. 1 (CP). — Duncan Grant, fast-breaking winger with the fourth-place Calgary Stampeders, continues to dominate the Western Canada Senior Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Official statistics credit Grant with 30 goals and 34 assists for a total of 64 points—11 more than his nearest rival, Andy Clovechok of the second-place Edmonton Flyers.

Grant's 34 assists also places him tops in that department, while Clovechok leads the goal-getters with 32.

Defenceman Pug Young and Doug Lane of Flyers are staging a neck-and-neck battle for the most time spent in the penalty box, with 96 minutes and 95 minutes, respectively.

Agile Bev. Bentley, colorful netminder of the front-running Regina Capitals, is leading netminder in the league on all counts. He has allowed only 107 goals in 36 games for an average of 2.972 goals a game, compared with 3.5 for his nearest rival, Russ Dertell of Stampeders. Bentley also is leading in shutouts with five, compared to two for Dertell.

The leaders:

Grant, Calgary	30	34	64

Set Powerboat Race

SEATTLE, Feb. 1 (AP).—The 1949 international cruiser race will be held July 2-3 on a prescribed course from Olympia to Nanaimo, B.C.

The International Powerboat Association announced further that the plans are being made for reviving the old capital-to-capital race, from Olympia to Juneau, Alaska, last run in 1928.

Bearden Gets Courage Award

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1 (AP).—Gene Bearden, Cleveland Indians' pitching star who carries a platinum plate in his head and another in his leg as a result of war injuries, tonight was named "most courageous athlete of 1948" by the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association.

Bearden, world series hero and American League rookie of the year, was honored at the annual writers banquet along with his manager, Lou Boudreau, who was named the "outstanding athlete of the year."

LONDON (CP) — A 10-point code of behavior for waitresses was announced by Lambeth Clean Food Association, headed by 50-year-old Mayor Jack Simpson. The code includes scrubbed fingernails, no nicotine or nail polish, and clean aprons and overalls.

Few Skull-Crackers in N.H.L. But Game No Place for Sissies

MONTREAL, Feb. 1 (CP). — For those who feel hockey has gone a bit sissy the penalty list is sufficient to show that the National Hockey League game has grown rougher, and tougher with time.

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson remarks on it and adds "Tougher but not deliberately dirty, mind you."

"There are few if any skull-crackers in the N.H.L. but the very style of hockey, with its increased bodily contact lends itself to rougher play," says Fergie. "And it's no place for a softy, a sissy . . . In fact hockey never was."

Most recent N.H.L. figures note that in the first 109 games this season a total of 2,244 minutes in penalties was meted out against the six teams. That's an increase of eight minutes over last season. It is an increase of 405 minutes over the same period of 1946-47.

Back in 1945-46 during the entire schedule of 150 games the players sat out only 1,179 minutes.

SNOWSHOES IN THE RAIN

When mid-Winter rains dampened the International Snowshoe Congress here the figure filberts went to work on some back statistics on this sport.

The congress' ten-mile marathon has been won in the past by such marathoners as Gerard Cote of Ste. Hyacinthe, Que., and Lloyd Evans, the latter holding the record of 59 minutes, 23 seconds.

Years ago, Fergie recalls, the most noted runners took part in snowshoe events. The late Frank Lukeman, fastest sprinter Montreal ever produced, was adept on the rackets. Once he was credited with 9 4-5 seconds for 100 yards. Many eye-brows lifted. Then the timers went over things again and it was found the course was 20 yards short.

Life Gets Tedious for Scots But It's Still Rather Amusing

WINNIPEG, Feb. 1 (CP). — Visiting Scottish curlers have found that life gets tedious sometimes, even when touring Canada for a series of exhibition matches. But, they admit with a chuckle, even the tediousness is rather amusing.

Max (Fort William Times-Journal) Ray says the Scottish curlers main difficulty has been in finding time to sleep.

"Everywhere we have been its been a constant round of entertainment that lasts till all hours in the morning. Then we have to be up around 8 to curl."

DOMNED NONSENSE

But, Ray quotes the Scotsmen as saying, anybody can get accustomed to lack of sleep. It's much more difficult retaining possession of curling brushes when a group of wild Canadians decide they'd like to have them.

"In Regina," said one of the curlers to the Lakehead sports editor, "I missed my brush and finally found a fellow trying to smuggle it away under his overcoat.

"It was a lot of domned nonsense going to all that trouble over a wee brush. Why, the fellow offered me $25 to let him keep it—preposterous."

A few other Scottish curlers were not quite so fortunate in retaining possession of their brushes. Two, at least, used Canadian brooms during their exhibition matches at the Lakehead.

NO FAD

Krug (Brandon Sun) Crawford, meanwhile, has decided that automobile bonspiels are not a fad. They can't be, he decided, after hearing that Saskatoon will stage one on artificial ice March 14-19.

The Saskatoon 'spiel will be the fourth in Canada this year. Portage La Prairie, Man., opened the season for the moneyed curlers, with Nipawin and Rosetown in Saskatchewan coming close behind. Curling clubs in all three centres have announced the car 'spiels will be back again next year.

What prompted Crawford's comment, however, was the announcement that Saskatoon's bonspiel will be on artificial ice, first 'spiel of its kind in Canadian history.

Sport Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP).—Newark's Ky Goldberg reports that fight manager Jimmy White attended the Gavilan-Williams fight Friday in company with Aaron Seltzer, one of the guys he used to manage . . . They were rooting in opposite directions . . . After one round, White remarked: "Gavilan won that one easy" . . . "What?" Seltzer yelled. "You think Gavilan won that round? Now I can understand why you screamed 'we was robbed' after every one of my fights."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Ed McKeever, who got the heave-ho from Chicago Rockets, might be a good coach for that vacant Temple U. job. Ed might not turn out as good a team as Penn's George Munger, but he could give George some competition on the banquet circuit . . . Four Chicago hockey fan clubs are getting together to stage a "night" for Doug Bentley in March . . . Knowing the habits of Chicago fans, we figure they'll probably throw something Doug's way . . . One of the season's better laughs comes from the Southern story of a real student who went on strike because he didn't get his pay for tutoring a football star.

SEARCH WARRANTED

Mike Jacobs, the fight promoter, is interested in locating the burglar who stole his safe and $4000 in Miami . . . Any guy who can walk off with a 250-pound safe ought to make a good heavyweight prospect.

New Ski Mark Set by Idaho Norse Student

SEATTLE, Feb. 1 (AP).—A new North American competitive ski jumping record of 290 feet was set on towering Olympian Hill, Sunday, by Sverre Kongsgaard, a Norwegian exchange student attending the University of Idaho.

Kongsgaard, a native of Kongsberg, Norway, eclipsed by one foot the old mark of 289 feet set in 1942 at Iron Mountain, Mich., by the late Torger Tokle.

The cousin of the new record-holder, Arnold Kongsgaard, soared 294 feet here two years ago in an exhibition during the Olympic team trials, but the distance was not recognised as an American mark since it was not scored by official judges.

Though Sverre of the Kongsgaard clan turned in the longest jump of the day, his form was not good enough for him to win the 1948 renewal of the Seattle Ski Club's invitation tournament.

First place went to another countryman, George Thrane, an exchange student at Washington State College. In second place half a point behind Thane's 236.0, was Petter Hugsted, Norway's Olympic Games champion. Kongsgaard finished third with 230.6.

New color phases in fox and mink furs are known as platinum, pearl platinum, white-face, silver-blue and ring-neck.

$100,000

A HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS is an awful lot of money but we expect to buy even more than this amount of good used furniture, etc., from Victoria homes during 1949. Our business has grown because we have gained a reputation for paying fair prices and spot cash for what we buy, and taking a smaller profit on what we sell. Kindly phone Wally Gray and get fair prices for what you have to sell. Ask your friends and neighbors.

Building Permit Value Tops Last Two Years

During the past month the building inspector's department at City Hall issued 145 building permits for work valued at $478,360.

Permits for plumbing installations valued at $35,835 were also issued raising the monthly total for new building in Victoria to more than $500,000.

The total for January, 1949, which includes the $131,000 Memorial Arena permit, is greater than totals for the same months during the past three years. In January, 1948, a total of 126 permits for work valued at $320,350 were issued. January, 1947, 125—$390,818; January, 1946, 109—$306,553.

HOUSING PERMITS

Of the January, 1949, total, 30 permits were issued for new housing construction valued at $128,750.

During the past year the building department issued 3,013 permits for alteration and new construction in the city valued at $7,103,040. Total fees charged by the department were $26,367.43, while total cost of running the department was set at $32,184.91.

J. W. Oosterink, building inspector, said it was becoming necessary to enlarge the staff of his department.

"The amount of work is becoming too great for the personnel that has to cover it," he said. Mr. Oosterink has already applied to City Council for additional building, plumbing and electrical inspectors.

Kiwanians See Two Movie Films

A film showing the scenic beauties of Garibaldi Park and another, entitled "Eye Witness," were shown to the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday by T. Jones, public relations branch of the Provincial Forestry Department.

The Garibaldi Park picture was produced several years ago by the Parks Division of the Forestry Department, and showed the camping and holiday possibilities of that Interior British Columbia beauty spot.

"Eye Witness," shown in two parts, dealt with Displaced Persons in Canada, and the gold boom town of Yellowknife.

Mayor Percy E. George, who had been bulletined to speak at yesterday's meeting, will address the club next Tuesday on "Civic Affairs."

Christie Road Name Chosen

"Christie Road" was the name agreed on by City Council Monday for the proposed un-named street which will connect Cadboro Bay Road and Cranmore Road in the city-owned housing subdivision adjacent to the Aged Men's Home in Oak Bay.

"Christie Road" was chosen to honor Alderman Mrs. Margaret D. Christie, chairman of the Aged Men's Home committee. Mrs. Christie last year pushed through plans for the housing subdivision. Money from the sale of the lots will be used for construction of an addition to the Aged Men's Home. Since sale of the property began this year, 13 of the lots have been sold, valued at more than $18,000.

Oak Bay council, which has jurisdiction in the area, will be requested to call the new street Christie Road.

Collections Show Slight Decrease

Through sales, transfers and wills, in which $18,107,961 in property was involved, the city assessor's department last year handled 2,863 land transactions.

In making this public Monday, H. G. Allan, assessor-collector, stated the number of collections in 1947 was larger, but value of property was not as high. Transactions totaled 3,108 worth $18,296,138 in 1947.

The 1948 figures, with corresponding 1947 amounts in brackets, are as follows: Sales, 1,988 transactions, $13,268,470 value (2,196, $11,821,937); transfers, 621 transactions, $3,584,291 value (655, $3,524,189); wills, 253, $1,255,200 (247, $950,011).

Mr. Allan said there were only 1,287 transactions, involving $2,487,762, handled by the office in 1938.

The all-time high was reached in 1946, when there were 3,943 transactions involving $18,788,238.

SHOREHAM, Kent, England (CP).—The 400th anniversary of the first English prayer book will be celebrated by special services at the ancient church of St. Mary de Haura during 1949.

Canada's banks have 7,000,000 bosses

Your bank account is one of seven million. You keep it in the bank of your choice. A bank exists by the confidence of its depositors. You're the boss.

YOUR banks operate under charters granted by Parliament, which every ten years reviews and revises them.

Above all, the depositor is the controlling factor—the safety of depositors' funds is a bank's first concern. As a depositor exercising your free choice—yours is the power which keeps the bank alert to your needs.

And it works out. Impartial authorities have called Canada's banking system one of the soundest and most efficient in the world.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a State official! State monopoly of banking, proposed by socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion!

CHAPTER XV—Continued

As a result, he drifted into the habit of visiting the stock exchange in Phoenix, and on occasions had done a little investing. Almost at once the oldest story in finance had repeated itself, a stranger to the stock market business had been roundly cleaned. Within a shocking thirty-six hours, Ed Bradley had seen about half his fortune disappear!

He hadn't said anything about it to his folks, partly from shame and partly because he wanted to protect them. Moreover, an invitation to run for governor had come along just then. In delight, he had accepted. It would give him a chance, he felt, to be active, while he could think things out and arrange to strengthen his finances again. Meanwhile he had more than enough to live on. To be exact, his last bank statement showed that he still possessed $52,178.65. That was the state of affairs on this morning when Milton Girerdeau called him on the telephone.

"Hello," Mr. Bradley: He detected excitement in Milton's voice at once.

"Yes."

"Good I'm glad you're there! I must see you at once. May I come right out?"

"All right," Ed told him, curious "What is it?"

"It's big! I'll be right out."

He was there in eighteen minutes He held out a paper bag From it Ed took half a dozen "rocks"—ore samples of assorted sizes. Milton stared, beaming

"That's gold, Milton! This stuff's rich with yellow! Whose is this?"

"Mine!"

"Yours?"

"Absolutely! Off my land. I obtained it three days ago."

"Where is your land? I mean—you got it protected?"

"Oh, surely. Claims are legal. I attended to that at once. Do you realize how valuable those samples are?"

"No. But from what experience I've had, I can see it's money? Had any assayed?"

"Absolutely!" Milton sat down beside him, began fingering the rocks, caressing them. "You won't believe me, when I say what they run."

"I can see they're fat, Milton. I had a mine of my own, you know This beats the one I had. How much of this ore is there?"

"The geoligists say the mine ought to run better than the Vulture, Mr. Bradley! Imagine that!" Milton was nervous with his enthusiasm, laughing and talking all at once

"Congratulations, young man! I'm glad of it. How'd you find it? Didn't know you had a prospecting fever."

"Not me, sir. Old Dave found it. Haven't I mentioned him?"

"No. Don't recall."

"Dave's been grubbing on my land, over in the White Tanks. Reliable old duffer."

"When did he hit?"

"A week ago. I held off telling you, or anybody, until the assay and first legal details were cleared up. Didn't want to be premature in the announcements."

"That's good business, son! Let me look at these closer."

Ed Bradley studied them minutely. They were fine ore samples, no mistaking that. They were truly a bit richer than those he had gotten from his own property, weeks before.

"What are you going to do with it?" he asked Milton.

"I'm not sure. I think I'll develop it myself. It ought to be easy. I can get it financed initially without trouble. I need something to do. I've been loafing too much this past year. When your campaign is over, Mr. Bradley, I'll have nothing to do, after I congratulate you."

"You say you can finance it all right? Yourself?"

"Well—yes, I can." Milton appeared to be thinking "Some men have offered to buy in. I have declined so far. They represented outside capital. If I do share this I'd want a local man, someone besides a lawyer representative someone who could take a personal interest in the mine's development and operation. See how I mean?"

"Yep," said Ed. "Don't blame you."

"Your mine paid well, didn't it, Mr. Bradley? I mean, it is developing satisfactorily to the men who bought it?"

"Yes. Yes, it is. I am proud to say they got their money's worth. I probably could have sold for more, if I'd held out. But everybody's making a good profit on that deal"

Ed was still studying the nuggets. Turning them. Thinking. Milton gave him time to think, not saying too much.

"I really wanted your advice, Mr. Bradley," Milton said then. "The truth is—well sir, you are older and—er, more mature man than I. And of course you know Arizona much better. Can you suggest some responsible local capital, an Arizona man, who might be interested in joining me in this, if I do decide to develop it myself? The assayer and engineers say I'm a fool not to It can be made to pay more than one fortune, whereas if I sold I'd get only a fraction of the wealth there."

"Uh huhm," Ed murmured, thinking. "I don't doubt it."

"I have some assured income, of course. But I am not wealthy. I had hoped for an opportunity to make a sort of life stake out here This appears to be it. But I shall need guidance. After all, I am an eastern man, city reared."

"You discussed this with anybody else, Milton?" Ed looked intently at him.

"No sir," Milton appeared a bit embarrassed. "You see, sir—well, the fact is, I have come to think a great deal of you. And—well, there's Alita. I don't need to say she is wonderful, Mr. Bradley, I hope—well, I won't mention that now, because I want to be sure I've convinced her. Anyhow it had nothing to do with this But, well I just seemed to think of you first, sir. You understand?"

The older man smiled benignly. He had been paid a real compliment, and felt it,

"Then you feel that you could trust me?" Ed asked

"Certainly, sir. Would I have backed you for governor, otherwise?"

Birthday Parties

NOW BIRTHDAY PARTIES . . . for little girls, that start them off on their social whirls, are awfully nice, and all of them should, have this fun . . . in their little girl-hood Spin the plate, & games as wonkey, as pinning the tail . . . on the donkey. Drop the hankie, & musical chairs, & running up . . . and down the stairs. And candles on the birthday cake, ice-cream & candy . . . in its wake. Pretty silk frocks, & gifts to thrill, laughter & voices . . . high & shrill. With birthday parties, I surely agree, but they're kinda tough . . . on guys like me. 'Cause every time, OURS to them go, & then come home to OUR bungalow. They tell of all . . . the things they saw, that WE only have . . . a replica. "And they've a Pop-Up toaster" Trudie sed, "NOT like ours that burns the bread. U just put in a slice, NO flippity-flops, & when it's done . . . up it pops. Sure & a gadget that hangs on the wall, so U don't need to stoke . . . the furnace at all. Just push it up, sure is neat, when it's cold, 'n U need more heat. You'd go for it Daddy, they're NEVER cold," and a flock of other . . . things we're told "They've a dining room, Mummy, where we ate," and THIS to the G.F., as fish to bait. After every party, this is flaunted, "it's a room just like . . . you've always wanted. They don't have to open the Duncan Phyfe, to lay out each plate . . . fork & knife. The table just sits there . . . all the time, & they've a clock that rings . . . a lovely chime." This seems a spot I should say to you, in our store, is a table for two. Then opens out . . . 2 leaves you shelve, and all of a sudden . . . a dinner for twelve. Like OUR Duncan Phyfe, just mentioned here, & with a double pedestal . . . it ISN'T dear. Just 75 bucks . . . that is all, & they come all the way . . . from Montreal. Just like the one our kids bewail, we're throwing it in . . . with the rest of our SALE. And WHAT A SALE, it's revolutionary, fabulous features . . . for February. Furnish three rooms, you surely can do, & all you'll need . . . is two-seventy-two ($272.00). There now . . . we're rid of the plog, 'tho it WASN'T tucked in . . . very snug So as I was saying, it's kinda tough, when your kids start . . . comparing your stuff. I try to tell them . . . THINGS don't matter, worldly THINGS . . . can break & shatter. That you CAN'T make a home with thermostats, they look at me , . . like I was bats. But to be more loving . . . unselfish & sweet, THESE the possessions . . . that CAN'T be beat. Consideration, kindness . . . these make a home, & doing the dishes & cleaning the comb. They just stare at me, two curly mops, "we'll settle," they giggle, "FOR A TOASTER—EH, POPS?"

QUACKER THE DUCK GROWS CURIOUS

> "The most curious thing in the world is curiosity."
> —Grandfather Frog.

Grandfather Frog never said a truer thing than that. It is curious, very curious, how curiosity will get the best of even the wisest and most sensible people sometimes. Even Grandfather Frog himself has been known to be led into trouble by it. We expect it of Peter Rabbit, but Peter isn't a bit more curious than some others of whom we do not expect it.

Now Quacker, the Wild Duck, is the last one in the world you would expect to be led into trouble by curiosity. Quacker has spent the Summer in the far, far North with Honker the Goose. In fact he had been born there. He had started for the faraway southland and at the same time Honker had, but when he reached the Big River he had found plenty to eat and he had decided to stay until he had to move on. The Big River had frozen over everywhere except in this one place where the water was too swift to freeze and there Quacker had remained. You see he was a good diver and on the bottom of the river he found plenty to eat. No one could get at him out there unless it was Roughleg the Hawk, and if Roughleg did happen along all he had to do was to dive and come up far away to laugh at and make fun of Roughleg The water couldn't get through his oily feathers and so he didn't mind how cold it was.

Now in his home in the far, far North there were so many dangers that Quacker had early learned to be always on the watch, and to take the best of care of himself. On his way down to the Big River he had been hunted by men with terrible guns and he had learned all about them. In fact, he felt quite able to keep out of harm's way. In fact, he rather prided himself that there was no one smart enough to catch him. I suspect he thought he knew all there was to know. In this respect he was a good deal like Reddy the Fox himself. That was because he was young. It is the way with young Ducks and Foxes and with some others I know.

When Quacker first saw Granny Fox on the little beach, he flirted his absurd little tail and smiled as he thought how she must wish she could catch him. But, so far as he could see, Granny didn't once look at him.

"She doesn't know I'm out here at all," thought Quacker.

Then suddenly he sat up very straight and looked with all his might. What under the sun was the matter with that Fox? She was acting as if she had suddenly lost her senses. Over and over she rolled. Round and round she spun. She turned somersaults. She lay on her back and kicked her heels in the air. Never in his life had he known anyone to act like that. There must be something the matter with her.

Quacker began to get excited. He couldn't keep his eyes off Old Granny Fox. He began to swim nearer. He wanted to see better. He quite forgot she was a Fox. She moved so fast that she was just a queer red spot on the bank Whatever she was doing was very curious and very exciting. He swam nearer and nearer. The excitement was catching. He began to swim in circles himself. All the time he drew nearer and nearer to the shore. He didn't have the least bit of fear He was just curious. He wanted to see what Granny was doing.

All the time Granny was cutting up her antics she was watching Quacker, though he didn't suspect it. As he swam nearer and nearer to the shore Granny rolled and tumbled farther and farther back. At last, Quacker was close to the shore. If he kept on he would be right out on the shore in a few minutes And all the time he stared and stared. Certainly it was the most curious sight he ever had seen. No thought of danger entered his head. You see, there was no room because it was so filled with curiosity.

"In a minute more I'll have him," thought Granny, and whirled faster than ever. And just then something happened.

Next Story: Reddy Fox is afraid to go home.

B.C. Hospital Insurance Plan Fixes Rate for All Payments

Rates for payments to hospitals under British Columbia's compulsory insurance plan have been tentatively set and payments are going forward, Dr. J. M. Hershey, commissioner, said yesterday.

They are at present based on the individual costs of operation of each hospital. A flat rate has been established for each patient per day, regardless of the type of treatment obtained. For example, the hospital service would pay the same rate for a patient receiving operating room facilities as for one who did not.

This method of calculating an average rate, Dr. Hershey explained, eliminated a great deal of complicated accounting. The rates being paid each hospital in the province would not be disclosed at the present time.

COSTS TOO HIGH

He acknowledged that the rates for some hospitals showed that their operating costs were too high. The province-wide hospital survey being conducted by James A. Hamilton and Associates, had already brought forward recommendations for savings in some hospitals where these costs were out of line and the recommendations were being passed on to the hospitals concerned.

"If any costs are out of line, we expect them to be brought down," said Dr. Hershey. "There is no question about it. We have no money to waste."

He said that the hospital service had made available the help of top-notch hospital administrators and most hospitals had shown great eagerness to take advantage of the assistance offered.

One of the problems faced by the service, he said, had been the great variety of accounting methods used throughout the province and accountants were now being sent out to establish uniform methods in all hospitals.

The province-wide survey now being undertaken will not be completed until March or April, Dr. Hershey reported. It would cover every phase of hospital operation including accounting physical plant, administration and costs. When finished it would serve as a model for hospital operation throughout the province.

On the whole the plan was settling down very well, Dr. Hershey said. There were plenty of minor problems, but no major ones that could not be overcome. The medical profession, the public and hospitals were all approaching the scheme with the greatest co-operation and the results so far had been good.

SOME WAITING

He explained that the plan had started at the worst time of the year. Illness always reached a peak in January and February. As a result some patients classified as elective—those whose treatment can be postponed—had been forced to wait, but all emergency cases were being taken care of.

A complete check had not yet been made on the number of persons who had not paid premiums, Dr. Hershey said, but the percentage of such persons who had entered hospital was "very small."

Insurance cards had been sent out to all but 3,000 to 4,000 of those persons who entered the hospital plan on an individual basis. Those covered through their employers had not. The latter, however, were more easily checked.

"March of Books" Plan Now Serving Germany

The "March of Books" program has absorbed the "Books for Germany" campaign of the Canadian Authors' Association, according to word received from the writers' group yesterday. Books as yet unshipped in its care will be transferred to the new setup of the Canadian Council for Reconstruction, the report says.

Canadian writers have found a ready response to their book drive in the last two years, particularly in the West, a letter from the book committee's national secretary states. University Women's and Canadian Women's Clubs, as well as parent-teacher associations and public libraries, are thanked in the letter for their contributions to "Books for Germany."

The Department of Education of the Control Commission has established a series of libraries in the big cities of Germany from books collected by the campaigns, the letter states, in describing work of the Military Government Education Branch. The library series is called "Die Brucke," meaning "the bridge," to symbolize efforts to bridge the gap caused when the Nazi regime in Germany shut out news from the rest of the world, the letter adds.

Witness Denies Evidence Offered in Appeal Court

A woman whose charge of rape resulted in a four-year penitentiary sentence for Thomas William Buckle in Vancouver last October, roundly denied fresh evidence of four new witnesses in Appeal Court here yesterday.

The court decided to wait for lawyers from both sides to submit written arguments on whether the fresh evidence was properly admissible before passing judgment on Buckle's appeal against his conviction.

Last week the Appeal Court had swerved from its usual role of not allowing new evidence in appeals after Thomas F. Hurley and Nicholas Mussallem, lawyers for Buckle, produced an affidavit signed by F. A. Nickorak. Nickorak claimed the woman who said Buckle raped her had told him after the trial: "I am going to kill myself. Buckle should not have gone to jail."

DESCRIBES PARTY

Buckle was convicted October 15 and sentenced October 18 in Vancouver Assize Court before Mr. Justice James M. Coady for the rape of Betty Lou Stephens, 21-year-old domestic helper, last October 3.

During Buckle's appeal yesterday, Mr. Nickorak declared that Mrs. Stephens had joined a party consisting of himself, John Petcoff and a woman named "Dot" in a beer parlor and that all four later left for Nickorak's North Vancouver hotel, where they drank again before Nickorak claims he took Mrs. Stephens to his room.

He said that while driving her home, he found that she was the same woman whose charge had resulted in the conviction of Buckle.

DENIES EVERYTHING

It was then, he claimed, that she declared she wanted to kill herself and that Buckle should never have gone to jail.

Mrs. Stephens took the witness stand to deny everything Nickorak said. She said she had never seen him before, did not meet him in a beer parlor, and had never seen the other two people with whom he claimed she drank beer.

Mr. Hurley called John Petcoff and "Dot" to testify that Mrs. Stephen had taken part in the drinking and some of the hotel episode, and called Thomas Crawford, a Vancouver city policeman, to testify that he had seen Nickorak and Mrs. Stephen together the day after Nickorak claims she made her confession.

REQUEST ARGUMENTS

After the evidence Mr. Hurley said he felt a case had been made out for a new trial.

But Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan questioned how much of the evidence would be admitted at a new trial, and reminded Mr. Hurley that it had not yet been admitted in the Appeal Court.

Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson pointed out that "we must feel that new evidence would be such as to result in a different verdict before we order a new trial."

Then they asked Hamilton Reed, Crown counsel, and Mr. Hurley to provide written arguments on whether the new evidence should be admissible before deciding upon the appeal.

Stove Pipes, Window Form Puzzle

Who delivered the stove-pipes to 1241 Rudlin Street?

This is a current headache for police, and also for the occupant, Miss M. Young.

An elbow and three lengths of new stove-pipe were found in the front hallway.

Adding to the mystery was water on the upstairs floor without any sign of a leak. And a broken upstairs window.

There were no signs of a forced entrance, nothing is missing, and all doors and windows were secure.

No pipes were ordered.

How did the pipes get into the house?

If you solve the problem, please call Garden 4111.

Stolen Purse Contained One Penny

A teen-age purse snatcher netted one penny at 9 p.m. Sunday.

City police are conducting a search for the culprit who grabbed a purse from Mrs. G. Milligan, 635 Superior Street, while she was walking south on Blanshard Street near Heywood Avenue.

Mrs. Milligan told police her assailant made his getaway in an old model car parked nearby. Besides the penny, the purse contained a letter from Princess Elizabeth and personal effects.

Constable James Strong and Lyle Somers brought in for questioning two young boys and girls who were parked in Beacon Hill Park in a car answering the description of the model described by the elderly lady. The four were released.

Damages Total $400 in Crash

Combined damage of $400 was caused at 8.05 a.m. yesterday near the intersection of Gorge Road and Glasgford Street in a collision between a car and a bus, according to a city police report.

A car driven east on Gorge Road by Max Pecht, 3038 Albany Street, skidded on an icy pavement and was in collision with a Vancouver Island Coach Lines' bus driven west on Gorge Road by Clarence Martin, 5 Gorge Road West, police said.

Attending for city police were Constables Ray Maitland and Reginald Churcher.

Highway to Cumberland Campaign Gains Support

PORT ALBERNI, Feb 1.—The campaign for the Cumberland-Alberni road, which had its start in the formation of the Beaver Creek Residents' Association, is stepping into high gear.

Addressing the Alberni District Chamber of Commerce here, P. A. Codyre, president of the Beaver Creek association, announced that residents' organizations were being started throughout the district which would demand action on the road. He claimed it had lain in plan form for 40 years without any effort at construction.

Alberni Residents' Association was to be formed at a meeting in that city Friday, and later a similar group would be organized at Port Alberni. About February 11 local delegates would proceed to Cumberland to dovetail their activities with proponents of the road at that end.

CHARGES MINISTER

Mr. Codyre charged that Hon. E. C. Carson, Public Works Minister, had been contradictory in his utterances regarding Government proposals for Island roads.

Mr. Codyre urged a united front from the Upper Island on road needs, and he warned Tofino residents that the Alberni-Tofino road would be treated the same as the Cumberland road unless a united stand was taken.

If loop roads were to be constructed on the Island, Mr. Codyre said they should be started in the northern end. He urged the chamber of commerce to request citizens to join and support the residents' associations.

EXPLAINS STAND

The residents' associations would take no part in politics, that is to the point of seeking to elect any one candidate, but they would definitely see to it that any elected member who failed in promoting the interests of the Northern Island would not be returned to office.

He promised that the next session of the Provincial Legislature would see action on the Cumberland road, and that the Tofino highway would come to the fore in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Norman S. King reported to the chamber of commerce on the present situation respecting the requested new railway station here, which had been delayed. In conversation with A. J. Cowie, railway general superintendent, Mr. King had been informed the railway had plans for considerable expansion, with a large union station for bus and rail, should the projected amalgamation of Alberni and Port Alberni come about.

Dogs Slay Island Deer; Warden Issues Warning

NANAIMO, Feb. 1. — Game Warden Frank Greenfield warned owners of dogs to look after them. He said three deer died of wounds inflicted by dogs last week.

A fisherman at Little Qualicum River stated he saw a buck fatally attacked there by three dogs. It died the same night. At Parksville another deer was so badly maimed by dogs that it did not survive. Dogs believed to have been implicated in the attack were shot.

At nearby East Wellington district, dogs fatally injured a deer which died the same night.

Reports state dogs running wild on Mount Benson are doing a lot of harm to wildlife there.

LADYSMITH, Feb. 1. — School by-laws totaling $282,000 for a new junior-senior high school and reconstruction of elementary schools at Ladysmith will go before ratepayers on February 17, and Chemainus and the rural section, February 19, according to Trustee C. C. Jones, chairman of the school board.

A report from the plebiscite action committee received approval, with Trustees W. Olsen, Chemainus, and D. Wilson, North Oyster, casting negative votes.

A group of Chemainus ratepayers favor a separate school there. Trustee Wilson emphasized that his area was dissatisfied with distribution of costs. He agreed new schools were needed.

Alberni Valley Thieves Make Haul in Darkness

PORT ALBERNI, Feb. 1.—After a period of comparative quiet in police circles, an epidemic of burglaries broke out in the twin cities Monday night and early Tuesday morning. Three places were entered, and cash and equipment valued at several hundred dollars stolen.

Entry was made to Johnny's Men's Wear through a transom screen 35 inches long and 18 1-2 inches wide. A new cash register containing $200 was stolen.

Martin's Coffee Shop was entered by way of a rear window, the thief reaching through a break to remove nails holding glass moulding in place. The sum of $50 was taken from the till.

The Somass Garage was entered, but nothing taken. Police are working on the three cases, suspecting they are the work of the same person or persons.
